Mr. McKINNEY, from the Committee on Judiciary Special, re-reported with a negative recommendation House Bill No. 94, entitled

An Act relating to jurors, the drawing thereof, publication and delivery of the names of persons drawn as jurors and preventing tampering with, visiting or conversing with any juror summoned for service in any of the courts of this Commonwealth about any matter or thing relating to his duties as a juror and providing a penalty for violation thereof.

Mr. STERN, from the Committee on Elections, re-reported as committed House Bill No. 46, entitled

An Act requiring employers to permit all employes to have a leave of absence of two hours on election day without any deduction in wages.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. LEARY asked and obtained unanimous consent to have House Bill No. 1881 read for the first time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1881, entitled

An Act to authorize the sale and conveyance of portions of the land belonging to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the County of Erie, now occupied by the Home for Disabled and Indigent Soldiers and Sailors.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. URICH asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Weimer on account of illness.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO DRILLING AND MILITARY INSTRUCTION.

Mr. WEST offered the following resolution, which was read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, May 15, 1917.

Whereas, The Government of the United States is about to draft into the army all male citizens between the ages of 21 and 31 years, and

Whereas, The act of Congress providing for the conscription of citizens provides what is commonly known as a selective conscription and exempts among others members of the State Legislature, and

Whereas, It is proper and fitting for the defense of the Commonwealth that the members of this Legislature should be drilled and prepared so that they may so far as possible act as a unit in the home defense guard therefore be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives in General Assembly met, That it shall be the duty of each member of this House to meet each morning on each day when the House is in session, one hour before the time fixed for the convening of the House for the purpose of drilling and receiving military instruction; that the Honorable Major Quintin O. Reitzel of Lancaster is hereby designated as the officer in charge of such drilling and military instruction, who is hereby authorized to appoint such officers and subordinates as he may deem proper; That an invitation is hereby extended to the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania to participate in the drilling and military instruction hereby authorized.

MOTION TO MAKE HOUSE BILL NO. 1240 A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1240, File Folio 3969, entitled

An Act to regulate and improve the civil service of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and of the counties therein having a population of two hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants or more, and of such other counties and of such cities of the third class therein as may accept its provisions by a vote of the people of such counties or cities respectively, making any violation of its provisions a misdemeanor and providing penalties for any violations thereof.

on page 31 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order on final passage for Monday, May 21st, 1917, at 10 o'clock P. M.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appeared to have it.

Whereupon,

A division was called for, and fifty-two gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and sixty in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1560 (Senate Bill No. 745), entitled

An Act to validate affidavits, acknowledgments and other notarial acts heretofore performed by notaries public of this Commonwealth within three months after the expiration of the time for which they have been commissioned to act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

West,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 28 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 1267, File Folio 4221.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1267, entitled

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine, section eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HECHT. Mr. Speaker, this resolution pertains to transit matters in the City of Philadelphia, and it is a companion bill to 1268, which I will also call up. There are now pending in the Senate two bills relative to transit matters, and there is going to be a hearing next Wednesday. It has been agreed by everybody in Philadelphia that these bills should go over into the Senate, so all of them can be heard at the one time.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—4.

Flynn,	Mervine,	Rothenberger,	West,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1417, page 28 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1417, entitled

An act to provide for an additional law judge of the several courts of the Thirty-first Judicial District

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ERDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Erdman, desires to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Miller, of Lehigh. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ERDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire the sponsor of the bill to explain the necessity of this measure.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, the necessity for this measure is best stated in the fact that for more than fifteen years we have had an additional judge in Lehigh County, the only fact being that those additional judges have been judges from other counties. There has not been a term of court in fifteen years that there has not been a judge from another county there. The necessity is there; we have the population and we want a judge who is a resident in the county, a county that has over one hundred and forty thousand population.

Mr. ERDMAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am opposed to this measure providing for an additional judge in the county of Lehigh, comprising the thirty-first judicial district because there is absolutely no necessity for it.

Looking at this bill from a partisan standpoint I possibly ought to be for it, for Lehigh County is a Democratic county, always has been so, practically, from the beginning, and this bill does not provide for a selection by the Governor but for an election next November. If you will take up your Smull's Handbooks and look at the county officials of Lehigh you will notice that, with the exception of those officials given to the minority party, they are all Democratic with one or two exceptions, one of the exceptions is a District Attorney, who is a Republican, and at the election at which he was elected the other Democratic officials were elected by majorities ranging from three to five thousand. Just to show you that if I looked at this bill from a political or partisan viewpoint I possibly should be for it for no doubt under this act the court would be Democratic, would consist of a Democratic judge, and there would be positions for deserving Democrats later on. But I take it, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, that this is a low point of view to look at such an important matter as this. The test this bill must furnish you, gentlemen of the House, is, is it necessary; is there a need for this judge in Lehigh County? In connection with that I desire to read from a letter written to me by the President Judge of Lehigh County in response to an inquiry from me as to his views on this question, and the letter reads as follows:

"May 1st, 1917.

Hon. Ira T. Erdman, House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

My Dear Sir: Replying to your request asking me to state my reasons why I am opposed to an additional law Judge for Lehigh County at this time, allow me to say, that such additional law Judge is absolutely unnecessary for the disposition of the legal business of this county as a plain statement of the facts will demonstrate.

Prior to January, 1916, I made an order reducing the terms of court in Lehigh County from five to four a year; as a result we now dispose of criminal court matters in four weeks instead of five; for several sessions, we disposed of all matters in three or four days of the week. April Term of civil court for years required two weeks for the trial of cases; this year we had twenty-nine cases for the whole term, requiring only one week instead of two weeks, the first time this occurred to my knowledge covering a period of over thirty years. Of the twenty-nine cases to be tried, nine were brought to October Term, 1916, and seventeen to January Term, 1917 in other words, twenty-six cases of the twenty nine were brought and disposed of within six months. Of the twenty-nine cases on the list, five were cases I was not in a position to try, and a call was extended to Judge Henry of Lebanon County to dispose of them. I have not extended a call at any time on account of the pressure of business, but for matters only in which I was interested, or should not preside; during the same time I have presided in other jurisdictions for upwards of five weeks. Matters now before me, argued and to be disposed of, can be so disposed of in one week; we will have no civil court until the third Monday of October, next, with one week of criminal court only between this date and the first Monday of October. With motion and argument courts for the first Mondays of May, June and September, legal matters brought to my attention during that time, can be disposed of in two months. Any litigant may have his litigation disposed of within six months unless continued by reason of illness, or where counsel is engaged in the public service, or a continuance is had for some reason or other.

The fact should be kept in mind that Lehigh County's population by 1920 will surely exceed one hundred and fifty thousand, and that then we may be entitled to an Orphan's Court Judge by reason of Article V, Section XXII of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, reading as follows: 'In every county wherein the population shall exceed one hundred and fifty thousand, the General Assembly shall, and in any other county, may establish a separate Orphans' Court, to consist of one or more Judges who shall be learned in the law;" the Legislature has also passed legislation whereby the Orphans' Court Judge shall aid in disposing of civil and criminal matters in the other courts of the county. If the present bill is passed, we might have three Judges in this county within a very few years trying to kill time at the expense of the tax payers of the county and State.

While the salaries of Judges are paid by the State, the tax payers of the whole State pay such salaries. The expense of an additional court in this county, to be borne entirely by the tax payers of the county, for jurors, tipstaves, court crier, stenographer, etc., would amount to at least four thousand dollars a year, and this at a time when the burdens of the tax payer should not unnecessarily be increased, when the liabilities incident to war will only too soon increase the burden of the tax payer; better it were that instead of establishing an office not needed in this county at this time that the money proposed to be spent be applied towards the care and maintenance, where needed, of families and dependents of our soldiers and sailors about to go to the front, or care for the injured upon their return. I do not ask for an additional Judge, do not need the assistance, and feel confident that if the tax payers of the county impartially investigate this matter, they will agree with me.

One bill alone passed by the present Legislature and approved by the Governor, and this is not referred to in a spirit of criticism, will increase the taxes of Lehigh County by nearly ten thousand dollars a year; I refer to the bill raising the weekly payments by the county to the State for the care of insane from $1.75 to $2.50 per week.

These are a few of the reasons, others might be stated, to support the attitude I have taken. It is not however, a matter for me to decide, but a matter for the Legislature to determine after having the best and fullest information obtainable on the subject.

You are at liberty to use this letter in any way and for any purpose you may see proper in so far as it relates to the subject under discussion.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) CLINTON A. GROMAN."

Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of this Chamber, is this office necessary? It is a fact that the legal business of Lehigh County instead of increasing with the population has actually decreased in the last ten or fifteen years. When I was in the prothonotary's office twelve years ago at the April term of court we had fifty-nine cases upon the trial list. This year, just twelve years afterwards, last week we only had twenty-nine cases and those were disposed of in one week by the present court. Does that look as though we needed an additional law judge? At that time the criminal business of Lehigh County oftentimes reached the total of one hundred fifty cases at some terms. Rarely does the criminal business at this time reach one hundred cases. In those days the District Attorney derived his emoluments from the office and necessarily the more cases there were the more fees and emoluments he received. Now, the District Attorney is salaried and the result is that the cases have almost been cut in two and yet the gentleman will make it appear as though we needed another judge in Lehigh County. The Workmen's Compensation Law, my friends, has resulted in reducing the business of the courts. A great many cases have occurred in Lehigh County under this act and I want to say that only one case has been appealed to the Court of Common Pleas from the Referees and Compensation Boards' decisions and that case was brought to the Lehigh County court last February, disposed of in two weeks, and in March the plaintiff in that case already received the compensation that he was entitled to under the order of the Compensation Board. I know of this case because I was interested for the plaintiff myself, and I say that this act, passed by us two years ago, has materially reduced the work of the common pleas judges.

Is this bill necessary, my friends? In the neighboring county to Lehigh, where they have two judges and have had them for many years, a county that is only slightly larger than Lehigh and with only a little more law business, if you have a case there to be tried with their two judges it will take you from six to nine months before you can get that case tried at a term of court. So it would seem, my friends, that the more judges there are the more delay. Shakespeare has an oft-quoted pharse to the effect about the law's delay and the insolence of office. I tell you, my friends that this does not apply to Lehigh County, this quotation from the immortal board. If you, my friends, or any of your clients or constituents have a case to be tried in the courts of Lehigh County it matters not whether it be a civil or criminal, or Orphans' Court or Equity Court, you can have that case tried at the very next court if it is ready for trial, and it will be tried unless you show a good and valid reason for continuance.

Why, I ask you then, should this burden of six thousand dollars a year, the judge's salary, be placed upon the State, and the additional burden of four or five thousand dollars a year upon the people of Lehigh County when there is absolutely no necessity for it; when the judge does not want it; when the people do not want it? My friends, we are mobilizing for active participation in the greatest war of the ages and against the strongest military power the world has ever seen. How long that war may last and what the cost will be no man can tell. We know, however, that the cost will be tremendous. Is this a time then, I ask you, to place this burden upon the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and upon the County of Lehigh when we don't need it? I ask you, gentlemen of this Chamber, in all sincerity, to vote down the measure and let well enough alone.

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, Lehigh County in the census of 1910 has one hundred and eighteen thousand eight hundred and thirty-two population—in round numbers a population of one hundred and nineteen thousand. Due to the remarkable industrial activity of the Lehigh Valley, of which I think nearly every member here is aware, our population has jumped to such an extent that a conservative estimate of the population would be one hundred and fifty thousand and yet, mind you, gentlemen of the House, Lehigh County has only one judge. He is the judge of the Court of Common Pleas, Quarter Sessions, Oyer and Terminer and the Orphans' Court. I want to give you a comparison with some of the other counties to show you their population. In 1910, seven years ago, we were the only county in the State of Pennsylvania with over one hundred thousand population that had only one judge. In 1910 there were at least four counties in the State of Pennsylvania who for years had two judges with considerably less population than we had then. There were four more counties of equal population with Lehigh who had two judges for a number of years prior. Since 1910 our population has jumped, as I have said before, to possibly one hundred and fifty thousand and the demand for another judge has become such that the lawyers of Lehigh County practically unanimously petitioned this Legislature for an additional judge. I have a petition here signed by nearly every member of the Lehigh County Bar. Yesterday and today, as many of you are aware, a delegation of the Lehigh County Bar was here in the interest of this bill, headed by the President of the Bar Association of the County. Another fact to remember is this: that for the past fifteen years there has not been a session of court in Lehigh County where they did not have a judge from another county present to assist in disposing of the cases. There has not been a term of court in fifteen years when we did not have two judges on the bench. Now, gentlemen, why should we have judges from other counties, a county as rich as Lehigh? In fact the census report shows that Lehigh County ranks seventh in wealth of the counties in the State of Pennsylvania. Why should that county have but one resident judge and be compelled to call in other judges from other counties at every term to transact its business. For every term of court in the last four years there has either been Judge Henry from Lebanon County, Judge Staples from Monroe County or Judge Barber from Carbon County. In the last fifteen years there has been a judge there in our county continuously at every term of court. Why should we submit to that state of affairs? On the basis of a comparison of population I will call your attention for the moment to the four following counties each of whom have two judges and less population than Lehigh County: Chester, 109,213; Northumberland, 111,420; Erie, 115,517; Delaware, 117,906. There are four other counties, the following four each have two judges and only have a few thousand more population than Lehigh County: Northampton, 127,667; Dauphin, 136,152; York, 136,405; and Washington, 143,608. The Constitution provides that each county having a population of forty thousand shall be a separate judicial district.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Benchoff,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MR. WHITAKER IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 30 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 315, File Folio 1773.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 315, entitled

An Act to further amend section thirteen of an act approved the twenty-fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand and one) entitled "An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names and appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses" as amended

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading? z

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain it.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the law passed in 1913 providing that where a man running on a non-partisan ticket receives fifty-one per cent. of the total number of votes passed he shall be declared elected. When the court came to consider that act they decided it meant fifty-one per cent. of the ballots cast, so that running on a ticket at the same time with a non-partisan nomination there may be five thousand ballots cast for another candidate, whereas only twenty-five hundred may vote for the judge. The court decided that the candidate in order to be elected under this act would have to obtain more votes than were cast for the judges. This act makes that fifty-one per cent. proposition operative, and that is exactly what the law means.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, what provision does your act make in a case where there are two or more judges running in the same election?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, that would just divide it by two or three. In other words if one man or if two men or if five men were running for judge with two to be elected, the two top men must beat the other men on the ticket. They must get over the fifty-one per cent., divided by two which is twenty-five and a half per cent. Whereas in the case of but two they would have to obtain fifty per cent. of the votes cast.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman. Does your act provide in case of a person receiving fifty-one or more per cent. and is the name placed in the uncontested column?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir, if nominated.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Does that apply to the primary election?

Mr. PALMER. The Act of 1913 has so declared. The Act of Assembly declares them to be elected if they receive fifty-one per cent. of the votes.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Schuylkill, this would enable a comparatively small minority of the voters of a judicial district to nominate the judge. Now the Act of 1913, which permitted an election, or practically an election, prior to the general election in November was a long step away from democracy. This proposition would further extend it, and it would seem only right and proper that a man running for the most important office in the county should receive fifty-one per cent. of all the votes cast at that election, whether they were cast for that particular office or not. This is giving a minority the right to name a judge, and all the people who go to an election who have not interest enough to vote for the judge should still be counted in the same way in ascertaining a majority of the votes cast for the office of judge.

Mr JAMES O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Palmer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PALMER. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JAMES O. CAMPBELL. I would like to ask the gentleman who would have been elected to the Supreme Court at the primaries last spring if this bill had been effective at that time.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Charles Palmer.

Mr. JAMES O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, I wish to call the attention of the House to that fact. Last spring at the primaries we named a candidate, or two candidates, for the office of Supreme Court Judge. The first name on the list was Mr. Palmer, the second or lower name on the list was Mr. Walling. If this bill had been effective at that time Mr. Palmer would have been elected because he had a majority of the votes that were cast for that office, although it was not a majority of the votes cast at the election. In the question of a State-wide primary the voters are not always very much concerned in the election of the judicial candidates and they are not usually familiar with the men. I know nothing about Mr. Palmer personally, I wish to cast no reflection upon him whatever, but I believe firmly that the result of that vote was not that the majority of the people in Pennsylvania preferred Mr. Palmer to Mr. Walling, but that they voted for the first man on the list, not being familiar with the record of either man.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Schuylkill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Palmer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, the original act of which this is an amendment provides where one of the candidates receives a greater number of votes than one-half, does it not?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, fifty-one per cent.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, not fifty-one and a half per cent.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, more than a half.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, it might not be fifty-one per cent.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, it might not be.

Mr. SIGGINS. Then if there were simply two candidates for a judicial office under this amendment, the man who received the most votes would be elected at the primaries.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir, that is right, unless those men who may have voted a non-partisan ticket cast a blank ballot, then the candidate might not have obtained over his fifty-one per cent.

I would like to answer both the gentleman from Franklin and the gentleman from Butler, if the House has finished.

The gentleman from Franklin presents the argument that perhaps people would not vote. Well, why should their votes if they do not vote either for or against a man be counted? Certainly the people know for whom they want to vote, and the decision should be made upon the men who are interested enough to vote either for or against, for if a man does not vote on a ticket, his vote should not be counted in determining the majority. I am sure there will always be enough voters interested either one way or the other that a decision can be reached. The argument simply is that if a man may have been negligent, of course his vote should count just as much as if he were not negligent.

To the gentleman from Butler, let me say the fault perhaps in Mr. Palmer receiving more votes than Mr. Walling was due to the fact that his name began with the letter "P" instead of the letter "W." Now that matter should be remedied by another act of Assembly, and there has been an act introduced to cover that question. He was the first on the list, and by the time it was over, they had advertised Mr. Palmer, the candidate, to such a great extent that they had gone as far as to slander him. I am sure I do not know anything about him, but I know this, that before it was over it became a matter of advertisement and Mr. Walling was finally elected. This act will simply mean that you will have to begin to advertise to months prior to the time you would have begun to advertise. That is all there is to it. They cannot answer that, and this will save repetition of what has happened.

Mr. WALLACE. I think, Mr. Speaker, that the provisions of this proposed act are not good. There are a great many people in this Commonwealth who now think that even fifty-one per cent. of the votes cast does not entitle a man to an exclusive right of the ballot. We must not forget, Mr. Speaker, that minorities have rights in this Commonwealth. I do not believe there ever was any intention to make a primary election an election of a candidate. The primary is intended to give place upon the ballot. It is very questionable indeed if fifty-one per cent. should, as a matter of right, give a man the exclusive place on the ballot. Certainly the provisions of this bill would be unjust in depriving the minority of the right which they have, and ought to have. Do not let us make a primary nomination an election. We have that provision near enough now, and I think this would be very unwise and should be voted down.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Lawrence should have presented those arguments at the 1913 session. I did not have anything to do with the making of fifty-one per cent. of the votes an election of a man on the non-partisan ticket. That was what the law declared, that was passed by the session of 1913. This bill simply makes operable the provisions of that act of 1913. The intention of that act, and the intention of this act, is to do what the good citizenship has been clamoring to be done on the judicial ticket, taking it out of politics as much as possible.

NAYS—2.

Miller, C. G., West,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 27 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 60, File Folio 2165'

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 60, entitled

An Act to amend section seventy-five of an act approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty (Pamphlet Laws three hundred eighty-two), entitled "An Act to consolidate, revise and amend the penal laws of this Commonwealth," by providing that the penalty for murder of the first degree shall be either death or life imprisonment at the discretion of the jury or of the court as the case may be.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill which places in the hands of the jury the right to designate to the court in a homicide case, where their verdict is murder in the first degree, whether or not it shall be life imprisonment or capital punishment. Some time ago we passed on this proposition in a different form, abolishing capital punishment altogether. This leaves the matter entirely in the hands of the jury. My own opinion, based upon experience of a good many years in the criminal courts of my own county, is this, that it has shown me this fact, that very often there are cases of a highly technical character where upon a mere technical point a jury may be instructed to render a verdict of murder in the first degree. In a case of that character where there are mitigating circumstances, the power is placed in the hands of the jury to certify to the court whether they prefer life imprisonment or capital punishment. As chairman of the committee having this bill and the companion bill in charge, I want to say in justice to the district attorneys and a great many of the judges of this Commonwealth, that those who did not favor the absolute abolishment of capital punishment either wrote letters to the committee or appeared before the committee contending in behalf of this bill. They believed it was more possible to summon a jury in a capital case where they had some discretion than where the jury was bound to render a verdict one way without some regard of the consequences of their verdict. I think under those circumstances this bill ought to pass.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill places in the hands of the jury the right to determine the punishment. Juries now have an absolute right under the instruction of the court to determine the degree. The objections to this bill are made not only by those who are in favor of capital punishment, but those who desire its abolition. The argument advanced against the bill by those who make a study of this subject is that it subjects the criminal to mob law. Wherever public sentiment runs high against the crime, the criminal will probably be sentenced to death. Where it is indifferent, or where there are some circumstances which palliate the taking of the life in the eyes of the people rather than in the eyes of the law, the jury will probably let that man off with life imprisonment. Now, Mr. Speaker, I can understand why those who are opposed to capital punishment altogether, should urge the passage of the bill which was defeated a few weeks ago, but how this bill can contribute to the good order of society and the safety of life, I fail to see. Even the peace-loving people, who believe it wrong to take life, are not in favor of this bill. The action of this body seemed to meet with rather general approval in the defeat of the Tompkins-Wells-Hess bill a few weeks ago, and I believe the action of this body with respect to this bill should be the same, and the good order of society and the safety of human life would be better promoted by the laws that now exist than by making it as this bill proposes to make it. This bill, in precisely the same form, passed two years ago and was vetoed by his Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth. A similar bill was passed in 1909, and was vetoed by Governor Stuart, and all of the members of this House have received, in connection with the other bill, a copy of his excellent veto message.

In connection with that copy, if you will remember, was a letter from Judge Ralston which was used very freely in the argument on the other bill that was before this House. You have all the information now, fresh in your minds, that you had when the other bill was before you and I trust that this bill will be defeated as the other one was.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think we all appreciate that all laws should have as much flexibility in them as possible. I would like to state to the House that I have not thought anything on this bill, neither had I expected to say a word on it, nor did I know that it was so near passing. Nearly all of the criminal laws that we have on the statute books have a flexibility in them, namely, with fixing a maximum and fixing a minimum, and we very frequently fix a maximum only and leave the minimum entirely to the discretion of the court. Any person who has ever thought serioulsy on that questiou realizes the wisdom because there are so many circumstances surrounding the same class of offenses that from the humane standpoint mitigate the real crime. Now, a great many people think that the taking of human life calls for the law to take another to protect society. There are circumstances surrounding capital offenses which do call for certain flexibility in the treating of capital punishment. If this law had never been tried in any state of the Union or any nation in the world we might hesitate as to whether we could afford to put it on the statute books of Pennsylvania. It has been tried in a number of States and it has been the law in the State of Illinois which I think was the first State that tried, we might say, the experiment and it is still there.

To my mind this is a proper piece of legislation because in practice there are many instances where the jury would like to punish the individual arraigned before the court but yet, because there is no flexibility in the law and the punishment means death, the accused goes free and too often to prey upon society and commit another offense of a similar character. My own judgment is that it is far better to place this flexibility in the law and leave it to the discretion of the judge and the jury; of course, the judge only comes in when the party pleads guilty, which, I believe, under the criminal law regarding a capital offense he is not allowed to plead but, as I understand under this statute—not being a lawyer—he would be allowed to plead and it will then place a flexibility in the law so that you will secure the conviction, in my judgment, in many instances where under the present law you do not secure a conviction. You will remove from society a threat that hangs over them by such citizen who may be at large.

I want to impress you with this fact and I believe you would be willing to make the guess: The placing of a statute on our statute books does not guarantee that it will stay there more than two years. Every member that has ever served in this House more than one session will realize that he voted for legislation the session before that he was glad to have an opportunity to amend at the coming session. If you place this statute on the statute books of Pennsylvania you have not tied the hands of the people of Pennsylvania for all times to this proposition. You have simply said that we will try this experiment for two years and if at the end of two years we find society has not been protected, surely you will have, for I have, enough confidence in the coming Legislature to know that they will correct the mistake, if there be a mistake. This is progressive legislation. This is following in the footsteps of other states that have had this law on heir statute books for years and who have not changed back. Now, we all profess to be progressive. It is true we do not take that political title always but I venture to say there is not a man on the floor of this House who will say that he does not stand for progress, wise progress in legislation. Now, when you know that if this went on the statute, if that be a mistake, that that mistake can only last a period of two years, is it not right for us, in the face of the conditions that we all know in the past, to make this step and if it be retrogression rather than progression that the next Legislature can correct it?

This is one of the most serious propositions that can come before this legislative body; namely, it deals with the protection of life in society, the public at large. I have no sympathy, of course, nor any thought of sympathy for the man who would commit murder, but I do have serious thought for the protection of society and if we find by this experiment that we remove from society a great number of men that do not have the mental balance to keep them from committing crimes of this character, then we have protected the lives of society. Surely, surely you are willing to make a try of this proposition for two years. I myself, as you all know, am opposed to capital punishment and had not this great government of ours been at war with a foreign nation I should have voted for the abolishment of capital punishment; and it is with this thought and this thought alone that I feel that you can well afford, every one of you, to try this experiment for a period of two years and I hope that the House will pass this bill.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I wish to heartily concur in what the learned Speaker of this House has said on this bill and I do it particularly in view of the fact that we had so well discussed a few weeks ago the question of the abolishment of capital punishment. We all remember when that subject was before the Committee of Judiciary General from both Bodies in the hall of this House, and afterwards when it was discussed by the members upon the floor of this House, that it was given out as a fact, substantiated by those who had made a particular study of it, that at present the curse of capital punishment laid in the fact that the juries did not weigh carefully and considerately all the facts that were placed before them but they waited, as it were, for a loop-hole by which to save a prisoner's life. Therefore in many cases they took these various cases of murder—by laying wait, and murder by means of poisons and the defendants were given the second degree. The jury did refuse to bring in a verdict of murder of the first degree, but brought in a verdict of murder in the second degree, so that under the law, under the strict interpretation of it, the man who should have been electrocuted was permitted to live. I submit that that is unfair for two reasons: first, it is unfair to the Commonwealth; second, it is unfair to the other degree where credit of second degree murder was involved of where murderers were convicted who did not commit murder with pretense and malice aforethought. Therefore, this act is of interest towards these men who are suffering for the commission of crime under second degree murder. It is also a fair act towards the people of the Commonwealth in that it says to a man who is unfortunate enough to commit murder while in his cups or while under great anger—it is true you have committed murder but we realize that it was not with malice and prepense aforethought and therefore the jury has a right to say to such a man that you will take life imprisonment which is different from a murder committed by poison or by laying in wait a man with a dastard purpose and to him the jury can say: "You must go and meet your doom in the electric chair." It is fair in that it says your first degree murderers may be given the first degree sentence. Gentlemen, this bill ought to pass.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I have personal reasons why I would like to support this bill but my conviction that comes from years of practice of criminal cases and from a study of the question convinces me that it is a dangerous experience for us to try. We are dealing with human life; it is already held too cheaply. Only yesterday in my district three men were murdered in cold blood in the perpetration of a bank robbery. If the men are captured, and they probably will be, one of our good criminal lawyers, if this bill becomes a law, could plead with a jury and could go into the question of punishment from the sympathetic side which is not permitted under existing law and by appealing to their sympathy could possibly have their sentence made life imprisonment. If that act does what it says there is not to be so much opposition to it but in the states referred to where this law has been tried it has been proven that life imprisonment means on an average a term of possibly ten or twelve years. In our neighboring state of West Virginia they have a law identical with this. Only in March of this year the Governor on retiring from office in that state pardoned sixty-five criminals who were serving sentence including sixteen persons who were convicted of first degree murder. In California they have a similar law and there is where a jury compromises between life imprisonment as in the B. murder case the judge commented on the fact of the law which made possible such inadequate punishment for a crime committed. The point has been raised that we need more flexibility in the law, but if the gentlemen of this House would consider that we have in Pennsylvania different degrees of murder on which verdicts can be rendered; namely, first degree murder, second degree murder, voluntary manslaughter and involuntary man-slaughter. If there is any question of doubt as to a man's guilt there is never a verdict of first degree murder returned. You have the evidence and the testimony of men who have been engaged in the practice of criminal law for many more years than I have who have not known of a single case in Pennsylvania where a man was convicted of first degree murder or who was convicted unless there was a clear case of murder in the first degree. You are also aware of the fact that a jury can recommend in case of a man, a prisoner convicted, the clemency of the court. Never has a recommendation in the State of Pennsylvania been ignored in a case of that sort. We had the question of capital puishment before us some time ago and I am proud of the stand that the House took on that question in face of the powerful effort that was made to pass that bill. Now we have before us a compromise measure which places the burden upon a jury. A jury has enough to do to consider the facts and when we pass a bill of this kind we are striking down one of the fundamental principles that has always existed. When you allow a jury to consider both the facts and the law that is dangerous and that has been a principle that has been handed down to us in years past and it has been maintained that it shall be kept separate, always. In this bill you will have to say, as a juror, not only whether or not the man is guilty, from the facts in the case, but from a fact of law. What would be the result? They as jurors could argue that certain punishment only apply in cases of a certain kind or of a certain offense and should not apply to the others. They could appeal to the members of the jury possibly or religious grounds or on racial grounds. The result would be a compromise verdict and in very many cases where a man might be guilty of murder the sentence would be life imprisonment. This is a matter that should be left to the court. If the court refuses you can then go before the Board of Pardons of the State of Pennsylvania and ask for a commutation of sentence; but don't by any means leave that with the jury. That responsibility properly belongs with the judge and it should not be transferred to the jury. It is with the judge and there it should stay. I sincerely hope that the House will vote down this bill.

Mr. McKAY. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with a great deal of interest to the speakers who have preceded me. I am not going to make an extended speech. If I cannot be eloquent, I can at least be brief. It may not be generally known that on the same date on which this bill was introduced I introduced a similar bill—a companion bill. I had no knowledge whatever that the gentleman who is now in the Chair (Mr. Whitaker) had introduced a bill of this character. Neither did he know that I had introduced one. That was on the twenty-third of January. This bill has been on the calendar for some time and you have looked it over and the gentleman from Franklin who slaims simply that because our Executive has vetoed a bill identical with this bill this one should not pass, which is no argument whatever at this time. Let me assure you that what he did two years ago is not to be considered just now. I am reliably informed that the sentiment is, get the bill passed and then send it over here. We have a competent man, Mr. Speaker, the attorney of my county, than whom there is none better.

I could stand here for half an hour, which I will not do, and read you letters from other persons, attorneys, district attorneys and judges of this State who are in favor of this bill. I will just read one little item and we will leave it with you gentlemen of the House. You today are the jury in this case, you Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House are the jury to decide this case. And I say to you in the name of all that is right and fair vote for this bill.

"The enactment of a law giving the jury the right to qualify its verdict would practically do away with compromise second degree verdicts. It cannot be gain said that there is a growing sentiment against the death penalty and many jurors on account of it, balk at voting for first degree verdicts. If given the power to fixe the penalty, the average jury would fix it at life imprisonment, but the power to fix the death penalty could and probably would be exercised in cases of an aggravated nature."

That seems to be the conclusion of the whole matter, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. I want to say to you in all fairness, because I sat here for four months this session, and four years ago I sat here for six months and during all that time I had not taken a moment of time of the House in any way whatever, simply to cast my vote as I saw fit, as my constituents back home and my conscious would dictate to me, I say to you gentlemen of the House and Mr. Speaker, if you vote for this bill, your people back home I assure you will not censure you for doing what you believe to be right and your conscience I know will be satisfied.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am a firm believer in the abolition of capital punishment, and have been for the past fifteen years. When that bill was before this House, I voted in favor of it, but I am opposed to this bill, and I am opposed to it for the reasons that I do not believe that this legislature should put upon a jury of twelve men the burden which this legislature would not assume. It has been stated upon the floor of the House that there should be flexibiliy in the penalty for murder in the first degree. I desire ot call your attention to the fact that all flexibility in sentences as penalties for various crimes upon the statute books today is placed in the courts and not the jury. Besides there is no flexibiliy in—

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Siggins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Warren, Mr. Siggins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, just as soon as I get through.

In this particular instance there is no flexibiliy between a penalty for life and capital punishment because they both end in death, it is only a matter of time when that death occurs. Gentlemen, if you were to pass this law and put this burden upon the twelve men drawn as a jury, then an attorney would come into a case, defending a particular man, and he would put it up to those twelve men that they have the power of life and death, and that they are actually the executioners if they vote in favor of inflicting capital punishment on the defendant. On the question of inflicting capital punishment upon a person who has committed a crime, who is mentally unbalanced, the laws of the present time are in such shape that they can properly take of such unfortunates.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House take a recess until 3.30 and continue the discussion after the recess.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there was one point brought out on the floor of this House that seems to me to be rather a reflection upon our people. One of the gentlemen referred to the fact, or presumed the fact that this bill if passed would put a very heavy burden upon our jurors. Now inasmuch as twenty-six states have acts similar to this, I do not think that we as a legislature ought to go on record as agreeing that those twenty-six states and Illinois have had such an act on their books, since states have better jurors; and if great states like Massachu- 1902 in one case, and since 1908 in another, and have never repealed it or revised it, it occurs to me that we can safely trust this proposition with the juries of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provision of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

With information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives, numbered and entitled as follows:

House Bill No. 1117

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 855.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 10, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval House Bill No. 855, entitled "An Act to repeal an act approved the nineteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred fifteen entitled 'A further supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to establish a county court for the County of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof' approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven constituting the said court the juvenile court of said county and prescribing its organization jurisdiction and powers therein and otherwise' and transferring certain cases undisposed of in the county court of Allegheny County to the court of quarter sessions of said county for the purpose of hearing and disposition."

This bill repeals the act of March 19, 1915 (P. L. 5), which act constituted the County Court of Allegheny County the juvenile court for that county. This bill revests such stantially all—bodies corporate having to do with the has attracted wide comment. Petitions from many—substantially all—bodies corporated having to do with the welfare of children are before me in opposition to the bill. Public hearings and interviews with reputable and high-minded citizens have been held. I am convinced that the bill was framed to correct alleged administrative weakness and not for any partisan purpose. The question however is not one of administrative situation but of fundamentally wise legislative care of children. It is the trend of modern socialogical thought, confirmed by almost universal practice, to place juvenile delinquents under the care of one judge—whose broad sympathies, wise counsel, and prolonged experience fits him best to deal in a corrective way with these cases. The judges of quarter sessions frankly admit this and declare that they are unable to assign any one judge to those cases. They admit their inability wisely to do this service and agree that it belongs to the County Court. The Act of 1915 needs time to work itself into the procedure of the courts and will I hope be so organized as to give the children the best service.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill, be laid upon the table.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO "THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER."

Mr. HOLLERN asked and obtained unanimous consent for the presentation and consideration of the following resolution which was twice read, consideerd and agreed to:

Whereas, "The Star Spangled Banner" is recognized as the national anthem of the United States of America, and as such is entitled to all respect; and,

Whereas, There is a danger that "The Star Spangled Banner" may be cheapened because of the indiscriminate manner in which, and the inauspicious times at which it is played, therefore,

Be it Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the sense of the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania that "The Star Spangled Banner" should at no times be incorporated in a medley or fantasia of popular or patriotic airs; nor should "The Star Spangled Banner" be cheapened through frequent and inartistic rendition in moving picture or other theatres, but that, like the "Marsellaise," the national anthem of France, "The Star Spangled Banner" should be kept free from the taint of what is known as "slapstick patriotism," and should be rendered or sung only at opportune times, and never in such a manner as would cheapen this stirring and martial air so dear to American hearts.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL NO. 846 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. DITHRICH asked and obtained unanimous consent for the presentation and consideration of the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE PHILADELPHIA BOURSE.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House a communication received by the gentleman from Delaware, the Speaker of the House, which the Clerk will read.

The Clerk read the communication as follows:

Request for the suspension of an Act of Assembly approved June 19, 1911, entitled "An Act to promote the safety of travelers and employees upon railroads, by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trans."

RESOLUTION OF THE PHILADELPHIA BOURSE.

An organization composed of over 2,500 business men, firms and corporations, having as one of its objects the improvement of the commercial interests of the City, State and Nation, acting through its Board of Directors at a meeting held May 9th, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and to the Senate and House of Representatives in Assembly met:

Whereas, In this period of national emergency and shortage of labor due to war conditions and other causes it is of the utmost importance that every man not imperatively needed for service by his present employer for the work in which he is now engaged, and who in the judgment of his employer can be spared from such work, should be released for other useful service and

Whereas, The temporary suspension of the Act of June 19th, 1911, entitled "An Act to promote the safety of travelers and employees upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroads to properly man their trains," would be of great value to the nation; therefore

Resolved, That the Philadelphia Bourse earnestly urges the members of the Legislature now in session assembled to promptly provide by appropriate legislation for the suspension of the operation of the said Act of June 19th, 1911, during such period as our country may be engaged in war and until six months after the termination of such war.

Resolved, That to effect the object advocated by us we urge the enactment into law of Senate Bill No. 1033.

True Copy.

Attest:

EMIL ALBRECHT,
Secretary.
(Seal of the Philadelphia Bourse).

MOTION TO PLACE BILL ON CALENDAR.

Mr. MITCHELL asked and obtained unanimous consent for the presentation and consideration of the following motion, which was twice read as follows and considered:

Moved by Lex N. Mitchell, seconded by Fletcher W. Stites, that House Bill No. 1679, File Folio 5523, be placed on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee on Law and Order.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the title of the bill.

The title of the bill was read as follows:

House Bill No. 1679

An Act to prohibit during the period of the present war the manufacture, sale and gift of intoxicating liquor except for certain purposes and under certain conditions; providing penalties for its violation and repealing all laws or parts of laws in conflict with the same.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call on the motion.

Mr. STITES. Mr. Speaker, I second the call.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that before the House should be called upon to vote on tihs question that the gentleman who made the motion should explain the nature of the bill so that we may intelligently vote upon the question upon which a roll call has been asked.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the bill is brief. This is a bill to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in the State of Pennsylvani for and during the present war, an absolutely dry measure for and during the period of the war for the purpose of conserving the grain for food-stuffs instead of having it manufactured into intoxicating liquors.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker and membersof the House, this bill was considered and considered intelligently by the Law and Order Committee, of which I have the honor to be a member. In the absence of the chairman of that committee I think it is incumbent upon me to take this stand and tell the House that this bill, the same as all other bills that came into the Law and Order Committee, had a full and intelligent hearing. This House, Mr. Speaker, is called upon to pass a measure which the United States Senate repudiated only yesterday; therefore, I think if the United States does not show any hardship as far as the grain is concerned that Pennsylvania is in no need of any such legislation is this and I therefore call upon the House to vote this motion down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Snyder and Mr. Stites.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 29 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 1023, File Folio 3923.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1023, entitled

An Act making it a misdemeanor for any person under twenty-one years of age to procure or attempt to procure intoxicating liquors.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill was before the House last week and was pretty thoroughly discussed. I assume that the members recall that discussion, but I want to call their attention to this feature of the bill which makes it a misdemeanor for a minor to procure liquor. It is now a misdemeanor for a minor to procure liquor and if he procures liquor by misrepresenting his age he is subject to prosecution, and I presume there have been prosecutions and convictions under that act. This would, as was pointed out, absolutely destroy the evidence both before the license court and in a trial for misdemeanor, because it is a practice in criminal law that no man can be compelled to give evidece that is incriminating; he cannot be compelled to incriminate himself. I have known of landlords who have had lads procure liquor and have them sign to that effect and when they did so the minors had that held over them as a threat of prosecution in case they were prosecuted and this would effectually close the mouth of the minor as a witness, and how can a man be compelled to testify against himself? It would only be from the bystander that evidence could be procured. It would embarrass courts in the administration of the Brook's Law and bring about a state of affairs that would not be conducive to good order or good morals. I trust that the House will defeat this bill.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was up last week I spoke at some length against it. I spoke against it, unfortunately, in the absence of the sponsor without knowing that the sponsor was not here. It looks innocent on its face but it is really a very dangerous bill. A license to sell intoxicating liquors is provided by the Brook's High License Law which is a law to regulate and restrain the selling of intoxicating liquors and in regulating and restraining it as our law does, or intends to do, it recognizes it as being more or less a dangerous commodity, if you may call it such. It is very different from any other line of merchandise that everybody has the right to sell, as a matter of right, because this is only sold under a special privilege and it is absolutely necessary for the law to impose upon men with this privilege some restraint and one of those restraints that is imposed is the requirement that they must not sell to minors. They must accept this condition when they accept this special privilege, and the burden of meeting that requirement is difficult sometimes. We all know that and we admit it, but when he accepts a special privilege by the court, when the saloonkeeper or hotelman accepts this privilege, it is with a full understanding that he is to engage in a business that the law is restraining and regulating and he accepts it with the full knowledge that he must abide by the provisions of that law. Now here is where the difficulty comes in: Under both the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Pennsylvania there is a provision that a man may not be compelled to testify to anything which will incriminate himself. Gentlemen, you see that if you pass this bill you make it a misdemeanor on the part of the minor and you close his mouth as well as the mouth of the man who sells intoxicating liquors and having closed the mouth of the minor it is absolutely impossible to convict either of them. You don't want that proposition at all and if the saloon keepers are wise they do not want it. I don't believe that the better element of them do want it. A similar bill to this one has been passed by this General Assembly in the past but has always fallen by the wayside and for the reason that it makes it absolutely impossible to convict either the one who commits the misdemeanor or the one who brings it about. We admit that it imposes certain requiremens on the saloonkeeper or the licensee and that vendors of merchandise are not required to do that, but bear in mind, always, that they have a special privilege to do a thing that the law recognizes as being dangerous. Gentlemen, don't pass this bill because it will make conviction in every case absolutely impossible.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, the argument that you have just listened to is absolutely baseless. It is admitted by the gentlemen who have argued against this bill that no person is obliged to testify in a court to anything that will incriminate himself. That being the case what more can be added by the passage of this bill? Absolutely nothing. The member from Lawrence County has rather insinuated that this is a liquor measure. It is not. This bill was suggested to me by a gentleman who is very wealthy and who is known all over the eastern part of the State of Pennsylvania for his benevolence, his donation to charitable institutions of all kinds, and he is interested in churches and Suday Schools and particularly in young people. If this bill does anything it deters many a minor from going into a hotel. I would like to know why it is any more of a misdemeanor for a minor to go into a hotel to procure liquor than it is a misdemeanor fo ra minor to attempt to procure liquor, for it is as much of a crime to attempt to commit rape or attempt to commit murder as it is actually to commit such a crime, and why is it any more of a crime to attempt to procure liquor in a saloon or hotel by a young man who is under twenty-one years of age as it is to procure it. If this bill is passed the minor is guilty of a misdemeanor before the hotelkeeper has ever sold him one drop of liquor. So far as closing the mouth of the landlord is concerned there is nothing to it. It seems to me that the gentlemen who argued against this bill would want to make the liquor business appear as disreputable as possible and use that as a way to get rid of it much sooner. If we can save the young men who are under twenty-one years of age I would ask them not to go to a place where liquor is sold. Any day there in my own town, and in many other towns, there are young men and girls not over sixteen to seventeen years of age who go into places like that and are served with liquor. Pass this bill and you will find that a great many of these girls would not attempt to commit a misdemeanor or violate this act. I hope that the gentlemen of the House will see this as I see it. If we can deter ten men yearly from going into hotels under twenty-one years of age, this bill is worthy of passage, and should receive sufficient votes to become a law.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, if there is any one sincere in his purpose to bring about the prohibition of liquor, he certainly ought to start with the young man under twenty-one years of age, and make it impossible for him to go into a public place and misrepresent his age. I take it for granted that this bill is a step in the right direction for the protection of the innkeeper against the lying young men who at times go into saloons and step up to be served by misrepresenting their age. There are upon the books of our state today decisions of our courts which have held that even where a young man was twenty-one years of age the next day after he had gotten a drink that he still being within the age limit and having been served by the proprietor of a saloon makes the saloon keeper amenable to the law, and his license was taken away from him. Now the man wants to be honest in the regulation of his business, and he ought to be encouraged. There is nothing in this act with regard to the subject of incrimination. The question of a young man's age is not proved by his own oath, it is proven by those who know something about the occasion of his birth, and it is proven by the records which may be on hand, and I take it for granted that the act is drawn up primarily because of the fact that it often happens that a saloon keeper who means to do the right thing as far as the running of his business is concerned loses his license because of the fact that he is deceived by some young man who is under age and selling him drinks. You men know from your own experience as young boys that very often a young man who was not twenty-one years of age was able to go into a saloon and get a drink when you perhaps, because of the fact that you looked more youthful were not able to get a drink at the same counter.

The only way to prevent occurrences of that kind is to put the burden where it properly belongs, upon him who misrepresents his age, and leaving the question of proof to the court and the jury after that.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, it has been stated, under misapprehension I take it, that there is something in this bill about misrepresentation. There is nothing of the kind in the bill. I will read it, it is very short: "That any person under twenty-one years of age who shall procure or attempt to procure or have furnished to him by sale, gift or otherwise any intoxicating liquors shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding fifty dollars or undergo an imprisonment not exceeding sixty days or both in the discretion of the court." That makes a criminal of a young man under twenty-one years of age who walks into a bar and is served without anybody asking the question. I do not believe the House wants to brand men, or boys, with that which is criminal and make them subject to prosecution if they don't say a word. The mere taking of a drink is a crime! It is not a crime on the part of an adult to take a drink, and I do not see why it should be a crime on the part of those under twenty-one years of age.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether it is not a fact, even as a proposition of law, that if a young man under twenty-one years of age were to walk into a saloon and ask for that which he had no right to have, whether he does not by the mere fact of asking, and attempting to secure that drink, impliedly misrepresent his age?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, it may be, but if he does so, I would answer the gentleman by saying that the statute makes misrepresenting one's age subject to punishment.

Mr WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I just want to reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, and ask him the question, or any other man in this House, remembering the provisions of the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of Pennsylvania, if a minor goes into a place and buys intoxicating liquor and there does not happen to be ay other person about to hear him ask, or see him get the drink, how are you going to convict him if you pass this bill. Now do not let us dodge the issue, it is fair and square. You know what it means, and every man who is familiar with the present law and with the Constitution knows that the result will be exactly as I state it. Now how will you convict that man from whom a minor buys drinks and no other person happens to be present to see the occurrence.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Wallace.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lawrence,, Mr. Wallace, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALLACE. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STADTLANDER. How would you convict a man who was guilty of larceny and no witnesses about?

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, that might be done by circumstantial evidence.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1031, File Folio 2075, from page 27 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1031, entitled

A Supplement to an act, approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 396), entitled "An Act creating a Department of Labor and Industry, defining its powers and duties; establishing an Industrial Board; providing for the appointment of a Commissioner of Labor, inspectors, statisticians, clerks, and others to enforce the provisions of this act, and providing salaries for the same; prescribing a standard of reasonable and adequate protection to be observed in the rooms, buildings, and places where labor is employed; empowering the said Industrial Board to make, alter, amend and repeal rules and regulations relating thereto; transferring the powers and duties of the Department of Factory Inspection to the Department of Labor and Industry, and abolishing the Department of Factory Inspection; and providing a penalty for the violation of the provisions of this act, or the rules and regulations of the said board," authorizing the Industrial Board to adopt a seal; and providing that certified copies of all records, documents and rulings of said board shall be received in evidence.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. NEARY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. NEARY. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to have the sponsor of this bill explain it.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides that the Department of Labor and Industry, where it is necessary for them to produce any evidence on any cases that they may have at this time or after the passage of this act, may adopt a seal, and when it is certified to by the president and secretary of the board, have that evidence transcribed, and it shall be received as evidence in court instead of taking a pile of books like these we have on our desks. It will permit them to transcribe the evidence that pertains to a particular case.

Mr. NEARY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman and ask him if this bill makes any new positions.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, it makes no new positions and the only expense created is the expense of buying a seal. I might say further that it is not necessary to pay any particular attention to the passage or defeat of this bill, as that will be amply taken care of when it reaches the Executive Chamber.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I refuse to be interrogated further.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, this bill seems to me, in the absence of an answer from its sponsor, to be weak in this fact that it might result in the record of a board, such as this board that is mentioned in this bill, the Industrial Board of the Department of Labor and Industry, having introduced in a court and being made positive evidence in that court. Now it seems to me if the Department of Labor and Industry or this Industrial Board would have a hearing before it and reach any conclusion either as to fact or as to law that the effect of this act would be that the court would construe that as positive evidence of the facts contained in the report; and it seems to me this is giving a prerogative to an industrial department of the government that does not belong to it. It seems to me it is widening the judicial scope of this government, which at this time is vested in a Department of the Judiciary, and I do not think it is good practice to allow that right to be given to the Industrial Board or any other department. For that reason I propose to vote against the bill.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, it might be helpful if one would read the bills with some consideration. This bill is rather carefully drawn and provides that certified copies shall be evidence, and concludes in this language: "Where the original records, documents and rulings of said board would be admitted in evidence." In my judgment it does not do a thing more than the gentleman from Armstrong said it did. It is very plain and only makes that evidence where the originals would be positive evidence. It would be up to the court to determine whether or not it was relevant and material, and it only relieves the department from the burden of transporting the original records and provides that they may make certified copies. It is only a question of whether the clerk or the secretary of the board would make accurate copies. The bill ought to be passed for the reason that it is a convenience.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1557 (Senate Bill No. 792), entitled

An Act authorizing and empowering the several counties of this Commonwealth to locate, lay out, open, construct and maintain public bridges whether wholly or partly within any city, borough or township therein, across any river or stream dividing or separating any part of said county from any other part thereof, together with the necessary bridge approaches, viaduct or other approaches, to conveniently connect the same with existing streets or public roads in such cities, boroughs or townships; authorizing the cities and boroughs wherein such bridges are located, to share in the cost thereof and to provide approaches therefor; authorizing the taking and appropriation of property and rights of property, public or private, for such purposes; providing a method for making compensation for property taken, injured or destroyed thereby; authorizing the several counties to enter upon and over public streets or roads in cities, boroughs or townships for said purposes; authorizing the several counties to appropriate money, levy taxes and incur indebtedness therefor; and authorizing the several counties to charge and collect tolls and rentals for the concurrent use of such bridges and approaches by street railway, telegraph, telephone or other corporations or persons making use thereof other than for ordinary foot or vehicle traffic and to enter into contracts for such use.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STADLANDER. Mr. Speaker, this bill, which originated in the Senate, practically affects Allegheny County. As the gentlemen of the House know the topography of Allegheny is peculiar in itself. The towns are located in valleys and on hillsides and the only way we can reach the several parts of the city are by means of bridges. The law to-day does not give the county commissioners the power to build a bridge from a city to a borough to a township. The purpose is to erect a bridge between the City of Pittsburgh on the north side and that of McKees Rocks. The manufactories are principally located on the south side of the ridge. The Schoen Pressed Steel Car Co. and other factories are on that side. Possibly four to five thousand men cross this river each day to their work. In order to do that they pass by means of ferries and some years ago the question was agitated for the purpose of building a bridge for the reason that about forty men were drowned in the Ohio River and I respectfully ask every man in the House, as a humanitarian measure, to pass this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Barner,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. BRADY asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up at this time House Bill No. 1516, on page 12 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading, for the purpose of recommitting to the Committee on Electric Railways.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1516, entitled

An Act to provide for the payment of salaries to constables in the County of Philadelphia and requiring all fees payable to them for the service of process out of magistrates courts under seal to be paid into the county treasury.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Electric Railways.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to present to this House a resolution out of respect to the memory of Dr. William Addison Magee and ask for its adoption.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Whereas, News has just been received of the death at Atlantic City, this morning, of Hon. Doctor William Addison Magee, a Member of the House of Representatives sessions of 1909 and 1911; brother of the late Senator Christopher L. Magee, and uncle of Public Service Commissioner William A. Magee, and of the late Senator Charles J. Magee, all of Allegheny County, therefore be it

Resolved, That in respect to the memory of our esteemed former Member the House of Representatives do now adjourn until to-morrow morning at eleven o'clock.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the resolution?
It was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT TO THE MEMORY OF DR. WILLIAM ADDISON MAGEE.

Whereupon, in pursuance of the foregoing resolution (at 5.50 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until to-morrow morning at 11.00 o'clock.

ERRATA.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, on Wednesday, May the 9th, I appear to have voted "aye" on House Bill No. 1425, as appears in the Legislative Journal, page 2179. At the time of the calling of this bill I was not present and did not vote.

The SPEAKER. The correction will be made.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1917 — 122nd of the General Assembly

VOL. 4. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 16, 1917. No. 56.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, May 16, 1917.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. E. E. Beidleman) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for our American ideals and for American opportunities. We think Thee that in this great world crisis, because of these high ideals, America has become the conscience of the world. We ask Thee to so guide our men in places of authority that they may continue to think and think very seriously, until they reach points of conviction so that the best brains we have shall be used for the regulating of the affairs of our great government. These blessings we ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SPROUL, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1117.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1117, entitled

An act providing that appointive officers and employes employed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its civil service or by any department, bureau, commission or office thereof or by any county, municipality or school district shall not be deemed or held to have resigned or abandoned their offices or employments by reason of enlistment or draft in the army or navy of the United States in time of war or contemplated war; prohibiting the removal from their offices or employment of such officers and employes during the period of their service in the army or navy; directing that one-half of the salaries or wages of such officers or employes as have dependent wives, children or parents and not exceeding two thousand dollars per annum be paid during the term of their service in the army or navy to such dependents authorizing the employment during said term of substitutes to perform the duties theretofore performed by such officers or employes respectively and providing for the compensation of such substitutes.

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1310.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1310, entitled

An Act to confer additional powers upon fire insurance companies.

HOUSE BILL NO. 846 RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR.

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows, considered and agreed to.

In the House of Representatives, May 15, 1917.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 846, File Folio 3767, entitled "An Act providing for the creation and regulation of municipal liens and the proceedings for the collection thereof in the several boroughs of this Commonwealth," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, May 15, 1917.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, May twenty-first, at nine o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, May twenty-first, at nine o'clock.

RESOLUTION RELATING TO RENDITION OF "THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER.

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 15, 1917.

Whereas, "The Star Spangled Banner" is recognized as the national anthem of the United States of America, and as such is entitled to all respect; and,

Whereas, There is a danger that "The Star Spangled Banner" may be cheapened because of the indiscriminate manner in which, and the inauspicious times at which it is played, therefore,

Be it Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the sense of the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania that "The Star Spangled Banner" should at no times be incorporated in a medley or fantasia of popular or patriotic airs; nor should "The Star Spangled Banner" be cheapened through frequent and inartistic rendition in moving picture or other theatres, but that, like the "Marsellaise," the national anthem of France, "The Star Spangled Banner" should be kept free from the taint of what is known as "slapstick patriotism," and should be rendered or sung only at opportune times, and never in such a manner as would cheapen this stirring and martial air so dear to American hearts.

Mr. McKEE. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read be referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. E. E. Beidleman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

RESOLUTION FAVORING PASSAGE BY CONGRESS OF DAYLIGHT SAVING LEGISLATION.

Mr. BEALES offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1917.

Whereas, Enemy governments have passed laws advancing the time one hour during the long summer days for the purpose of conserving their resources, and other belligerents have done likewise as a measure of economic war necessity, therefore,

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania endorses the efforts of the business interests now being made to secure the passage by the Congress of the United States of legislation known as daylight saving to advance the standard time one hour during the summer months.

Resolved, further, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Senators and Representatives in Congress from Pennsylvania.

Mr. BEALES. Mr. President, this resolution is in reference to the daylight saving bill which is before Congress to-day and which all of us have heard about. I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 be dispensed with in order that the resolution may be considered at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 868, as follows:

An Act authorizing counties to incur indebtedness for certain purposes and regulating the manner of creating or incurring any such indebtedness and the expenditure of the proceeds of any such indebtedness to provide for the redemption of the same and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof or the failure of certain officers to perform their duties under this act

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the fiscal authorities of any county in order to provide funds for the defense of the county in time of war and for any emergency arising by reason of the fact that the United States is at war may in any year create and incur an indebtedness or an increase of any existing indebtedness against such county and issue bonds to secure the same to any amount but so always that the total indebtedness of such county shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein but the fiscal authorities of such county shall not create and incur any new debt or an increase of any existing indebtedness against the said county to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property without the consent of the electors thereof at a public election held in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 2 Any bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be in sums of not less than one hundred dollars each bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum payable semi-annually and the principal thereof payable not later than thirty years from the date thereof and the said bonds shall not be sold at less than their par value

Section 3 Before issuing any bonds to secure a debt or increase of indebtedness under the provisions of this act the fiscal authorities of any county shall assess and levy an annual tax the collection of which shall commence the first year after the debt or increase of indebtedness shall have been created or incurred which tax shall be sufficient for the payment of the interest on the said bonds and also the principal thereof within a period not exceeding thirty years from the date when the said debt or increase of indebtedness shall have been created or incurred and the moneys arising from such tax shall be applied at such period as the county may stipulate in such bonds to the redemption at par of the said outstanding bonds

Section 4 It shall also be the duty of the fiscal authorities of any county before issuing any bonds under the provisions of this act to request the county auditors or the county controller as the case may be to prepare a statement showing the actual indebtedness of such county the amount of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property therein the amount of the debt to be incurred and the form number and date of maturity of the obligations to be issued therefor When so requested it shall be the duty of the county auditors or county controller to prepare such statement and to file the same verified upon oath or affirmation in the office of the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the proper county Certified copies of the record of such statement under the seal of the said court shall be competent evidence in all the courts of this Commonwealth

Section 5 Whenever the fiscal authorities of any county shall desire to create or incur a new indebtedness or increase an existing indebtedness under the provisions of this act to an amount in the aggregate not exceeding two per centum upon the assessed value of the property therein as fixed and determined by the last preceding valuation thereof they shall duly record upon their minutes their vote or ordinance authorizing and directing the creation or incurrence of the debt or the increase of indebtedness and the issuance of bonds to secure the same and when a tax shall have been levied and assessed and a statement by the county auditors or controller filed as required by sections three and four of this act it shall be lawful for the bonds to be issued

Section 6 Whenever the fiscal authorities of any county by their vote or ordinance shall have signified a desire to create or incur a debt or increase the existing indebtedness against such county under the provisions of this act to an amount exceeding two per centum and not exceeding seven per centum upon the assessed value of the property therein as fixed and determined by the last preceding valuation thereof they shall give notice during at least thirty days by weekly advertisements in two newspapers in such county and if no newspaper be published therein by at least twenty printed handbills posted in the most public parts thereof of an election to be held at the places of holding the municipal elections in the said county on a day to be by them fixed for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors thereof to such increase of indebtedness

Said notice shall contain a statement of the amount of the last assessed valuation of the amount of the existing debt of the amount and percentage of the proposed indebtedness or increase of indebtedness and of the purpose or purposes for which the indebtedness is to be created or incurred or increased

Such election shall be held at the place time and under the same regulations as provided by law for the holding of municipal elections and it shall be the duty of the inspectors of such elections to receive tickets and to deposit the same in a box provided for that purpose as is provided by law in regard to other tickets received at said election and the tickets so received shall be counted and a return thereof made to the clerk of the court of quarter sessions of the proper county duly certified as is required by law together with a certified copy of the vote or ordinance and the advertisement and the said clerk shall make a record of the same and furnish a certified copy thereof under seal showing the result to the fiscal authorities of such county and the same shall be placed of record upon the minutes thereof The fiscal authorities of such county shall in all cases fix the time of holding such election on the day of the municipal or general election unless more than ninety days elapse between the date of the vote or ordinance desiring such increase and the day of holding the said municipal or general election If any other day be fixed for such election the expense of holding the same shall be paid by the county for the benefit of which it shall be held In receiving and counting and in making returns of the votes cost the inspectors judges and clerks of said election shall be governed by the laws of this Commonwealth regulating municipal elections and the vote shall be counted by the court as is now provided by the general laws governing municipal elections and all the penalties of the said election laws for the violation thereof are hereby extended to and shall apply to the voters inspectors judges and clerks voting at and in attendance upon the elections held under the provisions of this act

Section 7 Whenever by the returns of such election it shall appear that a majority of the electors voting upon the question shall have voted against creating or incurring or increasing the indebtedness as proposed such indebtedness shall not be created or incurred or increased

If the returns of such election shall show that a majority of the electors voted upon the question voted in favor of creating or incurring or increasing the indebtedness the fiscal authorities of the county when a tax shall have been levied and assessed and a statement by the county auditors or controller filed as required by sections three and four of this act may create or incur or increase the indebtedness to the amount named and specified in the notice given by them for the holding of such election not exceeding seven per centum of the last assessed valuation of the property therein

Section 8 The funds accruing from any issue of bonds authorized by this act shall be used for the purpose for which the said bonds shall have been issued

Section 9 The existing indebtedness of any such county evidenced by outstanding bonds heretofore issued may be provided for as the same shall mature by a reissue of bonds to the holders of said outstanding bonds or by the issue and sale at not less than par of new bonds and the present floating indebtedness of any such county may be funded by the issue and sale at not less than par of bonds in sums not less than one hundred dollars each Provided That no such bonds shall be issued for a longer period than thirty years from the date thereof and it shall be the duty of the fiscal authorities of such county to provide for the payment of principal and interest of all such bonds in the manner established by section three of this act

Section 10 The fiscal authorities of every county shall at the end of their fiscal year prepare and publish in at least two newspapers in such county if so many be printed therein a statement showing in detail the actual indebtedness the amount of the funded debt the amount of the floating debt thereof the valuation of taxable property therein the assets of the county with the character and value thereof and the date of maturity of the respective forms of funded debt thereof

Section 11 The fiscal authorities of a county shall within the meaning of this act mean the county commissioners unless the powers of the county with reference to taxation revenues and finance shall have been vested by law in any city within or coterminous with the same in which case the councils of such city shall be deemed the fiscal authorities of such county. In so acting the councils of any such city shall exercise the powers conferred by this act exclusively on behalf of the county containing such city and the bonds when issued by the city on behalf of the county shall name the county alone as obligor and shall not be enforceable against such city nor shall they be any part of the indebtedness of such city

The word "indebtedness" as used in this act shall include all manner of debt as well floating as funded of the said county and the net amount of such indebtedness shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross amount thereof the moneys in the treasury all outstanding solvent debts and all revenue applicable within one year to the payment of the same

Section 12 Any of the fiscal authorities of any county who shall wilfully assist in authorizing such county to create or incur or increase so much of an indebtedness that the total indebtedness of such county shall by the addition thereof exceed seven per cent upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein or who shall execute any bond therefore shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding ten thousand dollars and undergoing imprisonment not exceeding one year or either at the discretion of the court.

Section 13 Any county auditor or county controller who shall neglect or refuse to prepare and file the statement required by section four of this act when duly requested by the fiscal authorities of such county shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding ten thousand dollars and undergo an imprisonment not exceeding one year or either at the discretion of the court

Section 14 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

(h) When all the persons for whose benefit a valid trust shall have been created by will for a term of years or for life shall have removed from this state into any other state territory or possession of the United States to reside permanently therein the orphans' court having jurisdiction of such trust is hereby authorized and empowered on application by or on behalf of all the persons interested in the trust to direct the trustee or trustees appointed in and by said will to pay over said trust moneys or transfer the securities in which they may have been invested to a trustee or trustees duly appointed by the court of such other state territory or possession upon the production to said court of satisfactory proof by certificates of the appointment of such trustee or trustees in the other state terriory or possession the authority of such trustee or trustees to receive such moneys or securities and the entry of bond and security of proof of the fact that under the laws of such state territory or possession security is not required such certificate to be authenticated in the manner provided in clause (g) paragraph one of this section and upon the production of satisfactory proof that the removal of the property will not conflict with the terms or limitations attending the rights which the cestuis que trust have in such money or securities

Section 59 (a) The orphans' court of each county shall have the care of the persons of minors resident within said county and of their estates and shall have power to admit such minors over the age of fourteen when and as often as there shall be occasion to make choice of guardians and to appoint guardians for such as are under the age of fourteen or otherwise incompetent to make choice for themselves Such appointment or admission of a guardian by the orphans' court of the county in which the minor resides shall have the like effect in every other county in this Commonwealth as in that by the orphans' court of which he shall have been so admitted or appointed

(b) Persons of the same religious persuasion as the parents of the minors shall in all cases be preferred by the court in their appointment as guardians of the persons of such minors

(c) No executor administrator or trustee shall be admitted or appointed by the orphans' court guardian of a minor having an interest in the estate under the care of such fiduciary Provided That nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to the case of a testamentary guardian

(d) The orphans' court shall not appoint the father or the mother of a minor as guardian of the estate of said minor Provided That nothing herein contained shall be construed to extend to the case of a testamentary guardian And provided further That where the estate of the minor shall be of the value of one hundred dollars or less the court may in its discretion authorize payment or delivery thereof to the natural guardian of the minor or the person by whom the minor is maintained without the appointment of a guardian by the court or the entry of security

(e) The orphans' court of each county shall have power to appoint guardians of the estates of minors residing out of the Commonwealth in all cases where such minors are possessed of estates lying within the jurisdiction of said court upon the petition of the minors if over the age of fourteen and if it be reasonably practicable for such minors to present their own petitions and in other cases on the petitions of persons qualified to act as their next friends without requiring the said minors to appear in court to make choice of such guardian

(f) The orphans' court of each county shall have power to appoint guardians of the persons and estates of minors residents of such county who may be absent in the service of the United States or who may be physically unable to appear and choose for themselves or who may be so distant from the seat of justice of the county as to make it unnecessarily expensive for them to appear upon the petition of the minors if over the age of fourteen and if it be reasonably practicable for such minors to present their own petitions and in other cases on the petitions of persons qualified to act as their next friends without requiring the said minors to appear in court to make choice of such guardians Provided That when the appointment shall be made on petition of a next friend the minor if of the age of fourteen or on attaining that age may subsequently appear and choose his guardian

(g) The orphans' court having jurisdiction whenever they may deem it proper may require a bond with good and sufficient corporate security or with two good and sufficient individual sureties from every guardian of a minor whether admitted or appointed by the court or appointed by will or in the case of a corporation duly authorized by its charter or by law to act as guardian said court may permit such corporation to give its own bond without surety Guardians' bonds shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the court and be considered in trust for all persons interested the bonds shall be taken to the Commonwealth in such penalties as the court shall direct and the condition shall be in the following form

The condition of this obligation is such that if the above-bounded A B guardian of C D a minor child of E F (late of deceased) shall at least once in every three years and at any other time when required by the orphans' court for the county of render a just and true account of the management of the property and estate of the said minor under his care and shall also deliver up the said property agreeably to the order and decree of the said court or the directions of law and shall in all respects faithfully perform the duties of guardian of the said C D then the above obligation shall be void otherwise it shall be and remain in full force and virtue

Provided That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to deprive a minor of any action or remedy to which he may be entitled at the common law against his guardian for any cause whatever

(h) Every guardian shall within thirty days after any property of his ward shall have come into his hands or possession or into the hands and possession of any person for him file in the office of the clerk of the court a just and true inventory and statement on oath or affirmation of all such property or estate

(i) When any one shall die leaving an infant child or children without having made an adequate provision for the support and education of such child or children during their minority the orphans' court may direct a suitable periodical allowance out of the minor's estate for the support and education of such minor according to the circumstances of each case which order may from time to time be varied by the court according to the age of the minor and the circumstances of the case

(j) 1 Every guardian whether required by the court to give security or not shall at least once in every three years and at any other time when so required by the court render an account of the management of the minor's property under his care which accounts shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the orphans' court for the information of the court and the inspection of all parties concerned

2 After the filing of such account or accounts such guardian or any person qualified to act as next friend of the minor may petition the orphans' court of the respective county for leave to have said account or accounts examined or audited and confirmed with the same force and effect as executors' administrators and trustees' accounts are examined or audited and confirmed

3 Such petition shall set forth the reason why such account or accounts should be examined or audited and confirmed and shall contain full information as to who may be next of kin or nearest relative of age to such minor or minors and all others interested in the minor's estate together with their addresses if it is possible to give them

4 The court may thereupon direct to whom and what notice if any shall be given to such next of kin or nearest relative of age or the parties interested in said minor's estate including the minor or minors if fourteen years of age or over of the filing of said account or accounts and presentation of said petition

5 After the filing of due proof of the service of said notice if any be required by the court the court may if it be satisfied that any reasonable necessity exists for the examination of audit and confirmation of such account or accounts asked by said petition thereupon appoint some suitable person to act as guardian ad litem for the minor or minors interested in said account or accounts and the same shall be thoroughly examined by said guardian ad litem who shall make report to the court of the result of his examination or the court may examine and audit said account itself and after said examination or audit is completed a final decree of confirmation as to the matters contained in said account or accounts and said report or reports and said audit or audits shall be made by the court which decree of confirmation shall be final and conclusive as to matters contained in said accounts reports or audits and decrees with the same force and effect or such decrees now have in respect to the accounts of executors administrators and trustees and the audits thereof

6 The costs of said audits or examinations including a fee for said guardian ad litem to be fixed by the court shall be allowed as part of the administration expenses and be paid by such guardians out of the property of the ward in their hands and allowed as credits in said decrees or the said costs shall in the discretion of the court be paid by the said guardians personally

7 Appeals from such decrees and rehearings of such accounts shall be allowed in the same manner and form and with the same force and effect as are allowed in the similar cases of other fiduciaries

8 Every such guardian unless previously discharged or removed shall on the arrival of his ward at full age file in the register's office a full and complete account of his management of the minor's property under his care including all the matters embraced in each partial account except where an examination or audit and final decree of confirmation has taken place as hereinbefore provided in which case said final account shall include only such matters as were not included in such former accounts and decrees aforesaid And the decree of the orphans' court upon such final account shall like other decrees of the court be conclusive upon all parties unless reversed modified or altered on appeal

(k) In all cases in which proceedings may be had in any orphans' court affecting the interest of a minor notice of such proceedings shall be given to the guardian of such minor in the same manner as is provided by law in the case of persons of full age If such minor has no guardian appointed by an orphans' court of this Commonwealth or by will probated within this Commonwealth the orphans' court in which such proceedings shall be pending shall appoint a guardian ad litem for such minor in the same manner as is provided by this act in the case of ordinary applications for the appointment of guardians If such minor or his next friend shall fail or refuse to apply for the appointment of a guardian ad litem as aforesaid then such guardian shall be appointed by said court on petition filed by any person interested in such proceedings Notice shall be served as aforesaid upon such guardian ad litem whenever notice shall be requisite

Section 60 (a) Whenever it shall be made known to the orphans' court of the county in which shall be found all or the greater portion of the estate within this Commonwealth of any person who has been a resident either of this Commonwealth or of any other state territory or possession of the United States or of any foreign country and who has absented himself from his usual place of abode by the petition verified by affidavit of the husband wife or next of kin of such person or other persons interested in the order named such petition being supported by the affidavits of at least two disinterested residents of the city borough township or other territorial subdivision where such person was last known to reside that such person has been absent from his usual place of abode for the space of one year that his whereabouts is not and has not been known for the space of one year and he has left an estate either real or personal or both situated owing or belonging to him within this Commonwealth without any person to take charge of or manage the same it shall be lawful for said court to appoint one or more trustees who shall take charge of and manage the estate of such person so being absent and who shall be under the control and direction of said court

(b) Such trustee or trustees before taking charge of such estate shall give bond in twice the amount of the personal property and seven years' rental of real estate with sufficient corporate security or two sufficient individual sureties to be approved by said court for the faithful discharge of his or their duties and shall within thirty days after his or their appointment file an inventory of said estate and render an account at least once in three years or oftener if required by said court Provided That in the case of a corporation duly authorized by its charter or by law to act as such trustee said court may permit such corporation to give its own bond without surety

(c) If such person so being absent shall return before the expiration of seven years from the time when he was last heard of or before letters testamentary or of administration shall have been issued in his estate on the ground of his presumed death or in case such letters shall have been so issued before the said trustee or trustees shall have paid or delivered over the property or estate to the excutors or administrators so appointed then said trustee or trustees shall render an account and restore to such person the property and estate after deducting the reasonable expenses of said trust and compensation of said trustee or trustees If such absent person shall die within such period of seven years and letters testamentary or of administration shall be duly issued in his estate or if after the expiration of said period of seven years letters testamentary or of administration shall be issued in his estate on the ground of his presumed death then said trustee or trustees shall render an account and pay and deliver over to the executors or administrators of such person the property and estate after deducting expenses and compensation as aforesaid

Homsher,	Patton,

NAYS—0.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RESOLUTION URGING UPON THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES THE IMPORTANCE OF THE PASSAGE OF A RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL CARRYING AN ADEQUATE APPROPRIATION FOR THE CARRYING ON AND MAINTENANCE OF THE PROJECT OF THE DELAWARE RIVER CHANNEL.

Mr. SALUS offered resolution, which was twice read as follows:

Whereas, The Senate of the United States at its last regular session failed to pass the Rivers and Harbors Bill which contained appropriations for the continuance of the work on the thirty-five foot channel in the Delaware River, for beginning work on a new project for a wider and deeper channel in the Schuylkill, provision for the acquirement by the Government of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, and many other important items; and

Whereas, Unless further appropriations are made for the continuance of the work and the maintenance of the channel already completed, the unfinished work on the channel of the Delaware River must be abandoned on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen; and thereby the project on which large sums of money have already been expended will become of little or no value; and

Whereas, The importance to the Navy of the United States, and particularly to the Philadelphia Navy Yard, of the continuance of this work to final completion and its continued maintenance cannot be overestimated, particularly during the present period of the war with Germany, therefore

Be it resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby urges upon the Congress of the United States the importance of the passage at its present extraordinary session, of a Rivers and Harbors Bill, carrying an adequate appropriation for the carrying on and maintenance of the project of the Delaware River channel; and

Be it further resolved that copies of this resolution be presented to the Senators and Congressmen representing this Commonwealth in the Congress of the United States; and that said Senators and Congressmen are hereby urged to exert their greatest efforts for the furtherance and final passage of such a measure.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 be dispensed with in order that the resolution may be considered at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution.

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday evening, May 21, 1917, at nine o'clock.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 12.47 o'clock P. M. until Monday evening, May 21, 1917, at nine o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, May 16, 1917.

The House met at 11.00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Richard J. Baldwin) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. S. G. Zerfass, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Heavenly Father, we adore Thee, we praise Thee, we bless Thee for the revealing of Thy love.

Help us to be Thy faithful children—obedient, trustful, loyal and true.

We thank Thee for the goodness and mercy of the past night, give us ever grateful hearts, open to the gentlest influence of Thy fatherly affection and protection.

May we be led into holier living, into deeper experiences, into more intense earnestness in Thy service and into fuller consecration to Christian lives.

Cause us to live sweetly, patiently, unselfishly and helpfully.

We ask all these favors and mercies in Christ's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Bovee, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1539, as follows:

An Act appropriating and transferring to the Board of Commissions of Public Grounds and Buildings the unexpended portions of money heretofore appropriate by the act of June sixteen one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand and twenty-seven) entitled "An Act to provide within the following boundaries namely On the west by the present eastern line of Capital Park on the north by the southern line of North street on the east by the western line of the right of way of the Pennsylvania railroad company and on the south by the northern line of Walnut street for the extension of Capitol Park in the City of Harrisburg and for the acquiring taking and condemnation of the real estate in connection therewith and within said boundaries and for the demolition of the buildings and structures thereon and making an appropriation therefor and also for the expenses and cost in connection therewith" and by the act approved June eighteenth one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (App. Acts two hundred and ninety-one) entitled "An Act making an appropriation for the use of the Capital Park Extension Commission" and designating the purpose for which such money shall be used

Whereas The act of Assembly approved the sixteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand and twenty-seven) entitled "An Act to provide within the following boundaries namely On the west by the present eastern line of Capitol Park on the north by the southern line of North street on the east by the western line of the right of way of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and on the south by the northern line of Walnut street for the extension of Capitol Park in the City of Harrisburg and for the acquiring taking and condemnation of the real estate in connection therewith and within said boundaries and for the demolition of the buildings and structures thereon and making an appropriation therefor and also for the expenses and cost in connection therewith" authorized the appointment of the Capitol Park Extension Commission and

Whereas By said act of Assembly the existence of said Capitol Park Extension Commission expires not later than the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and

Whereas The said Capitol Park Extension Commission has performed the various duties as provided by said act of Assembly but by reason of certain litigation involving the title to properties taken over by said commission and by reason of certain other pending litigation involving the amount of damages to which certain owners of property in the Capitol Park Extension zone are entitled to it has been impossible for the said Capitol Park Extension Commission to completely perform all the duties imposed by said act of Assembly within the time limit therein prescribed therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That all money heretofore appropriated by the act approved June sixteen one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand and twenty-seven) entitled "An Act to provide within the following boundaries namely On the west by the present eastern line of Capitol Park on the north by the southern line of North street on the east by the western line of the right of way of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and on the south by the northern line of Walnut street for the extension of Capitol Park in the City of Harrisburg and for the acquiring taking and condemnation of the real estate in connection therewith and within said boundaries and for the demolition of the buildings and structures thereon and making an appropriation therefor and also for the expenses and cost in connection therewith" and also all money appropriated to the Capitol Park Extension Commission by the act approved June eighteenth one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (App. Acts two hundred and ninety-one) entitled "An act making an appropriation for the use of the Capitol Park Extension Commission" and unexpended at the time this act becomes effective is hereby appropriated and transferred to the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings

Section 2 The money appropriated and transferred by this act shall be used for payment of the damages awarded to or sustained by individuals firms associations or corporations owning or leasing or otherwise interested in real estate the title to which real estate has already been acquired by the Commonwealth through the Capitol Park Extension Commission and for the costs expenses and compensation for which the Commonwealth may be liable and which may be incurred in any proceeding for ascertaining such damages

Section 3 The money hereby appropriated shall be paid by the State Treasurer on warrants of the Auditor General which warrants shall be based on itemized vouchers signed by the board

Section 4 This act shall become effective on June first one thousand nine hundred and seventeen

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 409, as follows

An Act to compel land owners in townships of the second class to clear the highways abutting on their land of brush and trees and imposing certain duties and liabilities on township supervisors

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That every person owning land abutting on any public highway in any township of the second class shall at least once in each year not later than the first day of October cut all weeds rhus toxicodendron known as poison ivy brush and trees growing within the boundaries of such highway and along the sides thereof This provision does not apply to trees of a diameter of four inches or more at a point two feet above the surface of the ground Such persons shall also trim all trees growing along such highways or overhanging the same and shall keep them trimmed so as to allow a clearance of at least sixteen feet above the surface of the highway

When any land owner owns the property on one side of such highway only he shall not be compelled to keep the same cleared beyond the center line of such highway

Section 2 If any land owner fails to comply with the provisions of section one of this act the township supervisors shall notify such person that if such work is not done within thirty days of the receipt of such notice the same will be done by the supervisors and the costs thereof collected from the land owner

If within such thirty days the land owner has not complied with the notice the supervisors shall cut such brush and trees and shall collect the cost thereof from the land owner in an action of assumpsit

Section 3 Any supervisor who neglects or refuses to comply with the provisions of section two of this act after being notified in writing so to do shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars or shall be dismissed from office at the discretion of the court

Section 4 This act shall apply only to roads running through cultivated lands or lands used for grazing purposes or enclosed with a fence for grazing

Section 5 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the sponsor of this bill the purposes of it.

Mr. J. P. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is for the safety of the people traveling over the roads, and that is about all there is to it, except the cleaning of the brush and making the roads wide so you can travel over the roads and not meet with accident in driving horses, cattle and stock of all kinds along the roads, that come out of a brush close to the road and meet with accident. I have had stock killed myself in that way. There are some objections to this bill in regard to people having farms and cleaning their farms along the roads. There are farmers who have cleaned their farms along the road and just a short distance away from them there are others, neighbors almost, that do not clean their roads of the brush and weeds, and those who have cleaned the brush along the roads by their farms, they are tidy farmers, think that the men below them, or their neighbors, if he does not do it, they think it takes their money to clean those roads because the supervisor will have to do it. The supervisor have the privilege of cutting timber along the roads while the farmer does not have that right, and therefore this bill calls simply for weed and brush under four inches in diameter, that is all the farmer can cut. He cannot cut anything that will make shade for the people traveling along the highway, that is under the jurisdiction of the supervisor and I hope you will all support this bill.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. J. P. Wiliams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. J. P. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, who pays the taxes on that land occupied by the highway outside of the fences that includes the road?

Mr. J. P. WILLIAMS. The man that owns the farm, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, who owns the highway?

Mr. J. P. WILLIAMS. The public, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COOK. Isn't it a fact then that they should clean it?

Mr. J. P. WILLIAMS. How is that, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. COOK Isn't it a fact then that they who use it should clean it?

Mr. J. P. WILLIAMS. No.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker who is to determine the fitness of the highway?

Mr. J. P. WILLIAMS. The supervisors, of course.

Mr. COOK. Or in other words who shall say where you are to and where you are not to cut?

Mr. J. P. WILLIAMS. The supervisors; and the men who own the farm tells you to cut it sometimes. It increases the value of his farm and makes his taxes higher, I have had four or five tell me that.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, just a minute of your time. I am not opposed to having a nice clean road, I like to see it. I own a farm along a road and I clean that road twice a year, but that would be a hardship on many men I know. Since there are men who have farms abutting on roads of that kind which would make it a hardship, and it appearing to me that the supervisors of a township in general should pay for the cleansing of the road, for that reason I am opposed to this bill.

Mr. CANON. Mr. Speaker, It seems to me that this is a bill that should not pass. It is a step backward in taking care of the roads, getting back to the old times when the farmers use to go out and work out the road tax. Then the plan was changed so they paid the money and hired the workers, and the law as we now have it is that the supervisors shall take care of the road work entirely, and the only thing that would improve the present law would be to have a penalty placed upon the supervisors if they did not see that this work was done. Now this is not a business way of doing this work. The business way is for all the land owners to pay taxes for the care of the road and the clearing out of the road and all kinds of work. That is equitable. According to this bill some man that didn't have any frontage on the public road, but who had a high-priced farm a short distance back from the road, would not have to pay any taxes for the care of the road. Then the supervisor of the road work would not compel his neighbors or friends to clear up their roads first. He would probably give them notice and they would say, "We will do it when we get this done and that done," and they would never get done in time to do the work. According to this bill they would have until October to do this work, and then if they did not do it they would have notice to have it done in thirty days, and by that time it is the first of November and it is winter, and it is too late to clear the roads. According to this bill as it now stands there is no method provided for the clearing of the road along unfenced or uncultivated land. It applies only to cultivated land and fenced land used for grazing purposes. Now take the property along the road. Under the present law, and this law works satisfactorily, the expense is equitably paid by the land owners in proportion to the value of their land, but under this bill a man who owns a small farm but has a large frontage along the road has to go to the expense of clearing that off. Then we have different kinds of land. There is hillside land and swampy land, which is hard to clear, and you put an additional burden on the owners of that land. We should take a step forward in legislation. The State of Pennsylvania has started on a great career of road making, and we do not want to go back to the old way of having it go around among the people to keep the roads in order.

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, I just want to saw a few words on this bill. I think it is imposing an unnecessary burden on the tax payers. In the coal counties there are lots of roads that run along the mountains, and under the Losch Act a bond had to be filed in court looking to the keeping of these roads in order. We have lots of these roads in our county. There would be no end to having these supervisors brought into court, when there was no necessity for it if you impose this on them. We have plenty of law at the present time to bring these supervisors into court when they do not attend to their duties. When the roads are not attended to the constable can make his return to court and the roads can then be properly attended to under the direction of the court. I believe this is an unnecessary purden, and that this bill ought to be defeated.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I feel from the demeanor of this House that this bill is not receiving serious consideration. I think it is unfair to those of us representing rural districts that legislation of this kind is receiving such scant attention. During this session we have listened for hours to questions which were purely in the interests and purely city legislation, and I feel that when a bill of this kind comes up that affects every rural district of this state, that it should receive careful and proper consideration.

This is a bill that imposes upon private property owners a duty which every fair-minded man must see belongs to the public. The public highway is public property and is laid aside for the use of the public, and we feel that it is the duty of the public to take care of these roads, and not the owners of private property abutting on them. I do not care to lengthen this discussion, but I simply want to say to the members of the House that this is a measure that is deserving of better consideration than it appears to be receiving here, and I ask the members, in the interest of every rural district in this State, to give this matter careful consideration and vote down this bill.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I will only take a minute, but I think like Brother Sarig that this bill ought to receive some consideration. In the first place he says that it imposes a hardship on the private property owners. In boroughs and cities a man is compelled by law or ordinance to lay a pavement in front of his place, keep it clean and provide for the curb and everything of that kind which tends to make the highway a desirable place on which to travel. Why eliminate the farmer and say that he can allow everything to grow up along the road? Should it not be a matter of pride to the farmer to keep the roads clean and looking pleasant to everybody going along them? Further, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill has been so amended as not to include unseated land, but just the land that is cultivated, and here is the place where all these weeds and small brush should be cleaned up by somebody, and I believe therefore that the farmer will take pride in paying attention to this. I think it is a very meritorious measure and ought to receive our favorable consideration.

Mr. ALBEE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say in reply to the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Phillips, that so far as the borough proposition is concerned usually the authorities pay a certain proportion on all pavements. Possibly the abutting property owners pay for a small strip along each side. When it comes to the proposition of the public highway being taken care of by the State of Pennsylvania and the township through which it passes, there should be no reason why under existing laws it should not be taken care of by the public. We already have laws on the statute books that provide that the supervisors of the townships shall keep these highways clean. I think there are very few farmers who do not care to take care of the weeds and underbrush along their property, but there are cetain lands in Pennsylvania that this bill would impose a hadship on the owners, and I think that as long as the highways are used by the public that they should be taken care of through our present system, and I think that this bill should be voted down.

Mr. LOHR. Mr. Speaker, I did not intend to say a word on this question, but I only want to point out the difference between a man having a lot in a borough and keeping the sidewalk and everything in good condition, and a man owning a farm with several miles of road running through the farm. I believe also that so far as every progressive farmer is concerned that he will see that his improved land is kept reasonably clear from brush, but the fact is, Mr. Speaker, that there are many miles of road in this Commonwealth that will not work more than fourteen to sixteen feet in width; that is, fourteen to sixteen feet from the outside of one ditch to the outside of the other, leaving a space of eight to ten feet from that until the thirty-three feet limit is fulfilled, according to the law. Now on that space there has been planted in past generations many fruit trees and cherry trees of various kinds that don't conflict at all or hinder the public in traveling over the roads. If you pass this act and enforce it strictly you would compel every one of those trees to be trimmed to a height of sixteen feet to make a clearance of sixteen feet which would practically destroy every fruit tree and cherry tree standing along the public roads of this Commonwealth, because to go back to the space of thirty-three feet and trim a tree to the height of sixteen feet you will not have many fruit or cherry trees left. There is at the present time on the statute books of this Commonwealth a bill to encourage the planting of shade trees along the public roads, the object being for the comfort of the traveler. If you are going to cut every tree less than four inches in diameter, I wonder how you will plant a shade tree that will be of any benefit to the traveler. Therefore, I think this bill works a distinct hardship on the public and should be defeated.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1499, as follows:

An Act granting power in certain cases to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or to any department thereof and to any municipal subdivision of the Commonwealth to purchase or condemn lands having thereon located road building material and to enter upon and cross private property and to locate and erect necessary machinery thereon and providing a method for the assessment of damages

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the words "municipal subdivision of the Commonwealth" as used in this act shall mean any county city borough town or township

Section 2 The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any department thereof and every municipal subdivision of the Commonwealth whenever charged with the grading paving macadamizing construction reconstruction maintenance improvement or repair of roads streets and highways shall have power to purchase or take by the right of eminent domain lands having thereon located stone gravel sand shale and any other suitable road building material in its natural state and land for use as a borrow pit and shall have the right to enter upon or cross any private property and to locate and erect all necessary machinery thereon for the purpose of securing such lands or materials

All lands condemned under the provisions of this act shall revert to the owners whenever the use thereof for the securing of road building materials shall have entirely ceased whether on account of the exhaustion of such material or otherwise

This section does not authorize the taking of any such road building material from any public property or cemetery or the curtilege to any dwelling house or farm buildings

Section 3 In case the damages for the taking of any such lands or road building material or for the entry upon any private property have not been agreed upon the court of common pleas of the proper county or any law judge thereof on application thereto by petition by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any department thereof or any municipal subdivision of the Commonwealth or any person interested shall appoint three viewers from the county board of viewers and shall appoint a time not less than thirty days thereafter when the viewers shall meet upon the premises affected of which meeting at least ten days' notice shall be given to all persons interested in such manner as the court shall direct

Section 4 The viewers having been sworn or affirmed faithfully justly and impartially to decide and a true report to make concerning all matters and things to be submitted to them and in relation to which they are authorized to inquire and having viewed the premises and examined the land and material shall hear all parties interested and their witnesses and shall determine the damages for the land and material taken and for the property injured or destroyed and to whom the same is payable

Section 5 The viewers or any two of them shall make report to court showing the damages allowed in each case and to whom the same are payable and when such report is filed notice thereof shall immediately be given to all parties interested in the manner hereinbefore provided in the case of the meeting of the viewers

Such notice shall state the date of the filing of the report and shall state that unless exceptions thereto be filed or an appeal be taken within thirty days from the date of filing the report will be confirmed absolutely

Section 6 When said report is filed the prothonotary shall mark the same confirmed nisi within thirty days after the filing of said report any party interested may file exceptions thereto and the court shall upon the hearing of such exceptions confirm modify or change the same or refer the report back to the same or to new viewers If no exceptions are filed or no appeal is taken as hereinafter provided within thirty days of the filing of such report the prothonotary shall mark the report confirmed absolutely

Section 7 The costs of the proceedings including the court costs and the compensation of the viewers shall be paid by the Commonwealth or by the municipal subdivision of the Commonwealth as the case may be Provided That in the case of any appeal for a jury trial under the provisions of this act if the appellant does not obtain a verdict more favorable than was the report of the viewers the appellant shall pay the costs of such appeal and provided also that in the case of any appeal to the Supreme or Superior Court the said court shall direct who shall pay the costs of such appeal

Section 8 Within thirty days after the filing of the report any party whose property is taken injured or destroyed may appeal to the court of common pleas and demand a jury trial The appeal shall state the grounds upon which it is taken and shall be signed by the appellant or by his attorney and shall be accompanied by an affidavit that the same is not taken for delay but because the appellant believes that injustice has been done

Section 9 From any final confirmation by the court after the filing of exceptions of from any final judgment after a trial by jury any party interested may appeal to the Superior or Supreme Court in the manner now provided by law

Section 10 If pending any proceedings under the provisions of this act it shall be made to appear by affidavit or otherwise to the satisfaction of the court that the title to the materials condemned or property injured or destroyed is disputed doubtful or defective or that any party in interest is absent covert not of full age or for any other cause incapable to act it shall be lawful for the court to make all needful orders to effect the purposes of this act and to direct the damages and costs to be paid into court for the benefit of the parties who may be found to be entitled thereto

Section 11 The amount of damages shall within thirty days after the same have been finally ascertained be paid by the Commonwealth or the municipal division thereof to the parties entitled thereto

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain the amendments that he inserted in the bill since it was up before this House for consideration.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, the amendment consists in striking out five lines in the first section which was done by reason of the suggestion made by my friend from Philadelphia who said that the bill was unconstitutional. The remainder of the bill is only amended with respect to a few words to make it concur with the amendment of the first section. There can not be any possible chance of its conferring any rights of eminent domain or attempting to confer any right of eminent domain except upon the Commonwealth or any municipal sub-division of the Commonwealth that is a purely public body spending the taxpayers' money and no one else.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, this is the bill that would give the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the right to take stone or other road-making material from the lands of any farmer whose lands abut a public highway; in other words, it extends the right of eminent domain. Up to this time, Mr. Speaker, that right has only been exercised by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for such purposes as would serve the convenience of the public. It has been exercised for the taking of roads and lands for railroads so that passengers and freight might be carried; it has been exercised for the taking of roads so that the public could conveniently travel from one place to another; and at no other time, until the present bill is before the session, has the right of eminent domain been extended so as to become a financial proposition, either from an economical or industrial standpoint, for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania This bill, Mr. Speaker, would enable the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to go upon the land of a farmer or anyone whose lands abut a public road and dig into that land. It is carrying the right of eminent domain too far and I believe—

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STERN. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if the bill does not provide that the Commonwealth shall pay for whatever it takes?

Mr. STERN. It does, Mr. Speaker, but it eliminates competition. The State of Pennsylvania, when it goes into the open market and makes any purchase, should be on the same footing as any other individual. This government is becoming too paternalistic. We have no right to discriminate in favor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in a thing of that kind. That is another reason—I am glad my friend called my attention to the fact; that is another valid objection to the passage of this bill and therefore I ask for its defeat for two reasons; the first reason I brought out myself and for the second reason that my friend brought out.

Mr. WALTER. This bill is designed to give to the Commonwealth what the Commonwealth has given with such a free hand to private corporations. The gentleman from Philadelphia mentioned railroads. Only this week we have passed a bill giving railroads the right to construct branches over private property extending, as I understood the bill, the right to all railroads in the State—some of them did not heretofore enjoy it,—and it gives them an opportunity to construct a railroad over your land, and it is not restricted under the present construction of the railroad act under which a railroad can take even a dwelling. Now, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in its wisdom, has given that to the railroad companies. A water company can take the water from your farm, can dry up your wells and by paying the bills, can sell that water to the public, after paying you the damages. A telephone company can construct its line along your farm and disfigure it with poles and after paying the damages you have to stand that.

An electric railway can go over your land, go through it and cut up your fields, and the Commonwealth has generously given that. Mr. Speaker, why should not the Commonwealth give something to herself? Why should the public money be spent without this right of eminent domain and who is more entitled to it than the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania? Everybody's money goes for the making of roads. It was stated by the gentleman from Philadelphia that the right of eminent domain has been only exercised for the convenience of the public. What is more convenient to the public than a good road? Here we are spending millions; the Senate yesterday passed a fifty million dollar bond issue amendment to the Constitution, and this body will be called upon in due course of time to pass upon that, and you would place that fifty million dollars in the hands of the Commonwealth to spend and you say to them you must pay for road making materials whatever the owner of them chooses to ask. If you defeat this bill, that is what you are doing. This will not result in condemnation suits; it simply will prevent unscrupulous and selfish owners of road making materials from extorting from the Commonwealth unreasonable prices. I regret to say that I know of instances in which two and three and four prices have been charged the Commonwealth in counties and townships for road making materials. Take places where there is a big fill; there you must buy that ground, and unless you have a bill of this sort you will pay the owners' price. Now, gentlemen, this bill only gives to the Commonwealth what the Commonwealth in her graciousness has given to everyone else. Therefore, it ought to pass, and all of you who are familiar with the conditions in your townships know where they are using road making material of various kinds, and I have no doubt some of you know where exorbitant prices have been charged and paid. You cannot help it. They cannot afford to haul by wagons because it costs too much. Therefore, you need not be afraid of a large quantity being taken from one place, and you need not be afraid of a jury of a county giving full and complete compensation to everybody whose land or road making material are taken and whose road making material is used. You can depend upon the road juries doing that where the Commonwealth is concerned. This is a right that has been enjoyed by townships since 1836, and prior to 1849 it has been enjoyed by boroughs, and where is there anybody in this House who has heard of unwise or injudicious exercise of the right to take road making material. No one at all; no one can point to a case where it has been unwisely exercised. There is nothing paternalistic about this idea. The paternalism was started when you turned over ten—thousand miles of road to the Department of Highways to make. That was paternalism. But every member of this House has a bill in which they are interested, those of the counties, to put more roads on the Highway Department, and you are going to say to that department which is under your control and which is part of the government of Pennsylvania, "Are you going to pay what anybody asks for the building of road material or for the building of roads?" If you defeat this bill, that is what you are doing.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the House last week, I opposed it on the ground that from my standpoint of observation I found that the bill as constructed then was unconstitutional. Since that time the gentleman from Franklin, the sponsor of this measure, has amended his bill, and as far as I know, after looking over the bill carefully, I feel that he has eliminated the unconstitutional provisions that were therein contained and that the bill in its present form, as amended, is in proper shape and, as far as I know, is constitutional.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin.

The SPEAPER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Walter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman correctly when I understood him to say that the bill has been so amended that only the State Highway Department shall have the right to condemn property?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, if I did say so, it is an error. The Commonwealth and any municipality—

Mr. DELL. I notice it gives townships the same rights.

Mr. WALTER. It does. If I said otherwise, it was an error and I apologize to the gentleman.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I shall not take time to discuss this bill. Originally I was bitterly opposed to it and I am still opposed to the measure. The gentleman from Franklin made the statement a moment ago that the farmer would have the right to set the price on his material. Every other man even my good friend, and attorney, has the right to set the price upon that which he does. If I go down in Franklin County or into any other county and ask for legal advice I don't say to him that I shall have the right by eminent domain to set your price. I believe the average farmer is fair. I believe the average landowner is fair and the only danger I see in this bill is that it permits the State or the county or the township or a borough to go into a man's land and condemn any spot of that land they may desire to use and leave it in a unsightly condition on the farm, practically making the surrounding area useless to the landowner. It is that we have a right to go into court and test the case it is true we have the right to appeal under the act of eminent domain from the decision of the appraisers, but it throws the burden of truth and the acceptance then upon the man who owns the land and that is the reason why I have opposed the bill and that is the reason why I believe it is unfair for us to come in and condemn that land and take from the farmer road material when we don't go and take road material from anybody else. I shall not take any more time to discuss the bill and I sincerely hope the measure will be defeated.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 17.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 17, File Folio 3925, entitled

An Act authorizing cities of the second and third classes to engage in the business of farming including dairy farming and vesting certain powers in said cities in connection therewith which was defeated on final passage on Wednesday, May the ninth, be reconsidered.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MAURER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to explain the object of this bill which was defeated last week. The small vote that the bill received leads me to believe that the members of the House were not aware of the provision of the act proposed. Bill No. 17, which I introduced, is nothing more than an enabling act—that is all. It provides that cities of the second or third class may, if they so desire, engage in the agricultural business. In other words, we have in the City of Reading about a thousand acres of land that we have acquired from time to time. Of course this land is not all fit for agricultural purposes, but much of it is, and at this time when we are supposed to cultivate every bit of soil that we have, according to the wishes of President Wilson and the Governor of Pennsylvania asking us to raise crops and produce food, it did seem to me like a shame that a city should have hundreds of acres of land lying idle. I asked our city council to take action on this matter, but the city solicitor ruled they did not have any such right, that we had no privileges. The act of 1913 governing third class cities does not give us such privilege. I do not know whether other cities have land that they could use for this purpose, but I wanted to make it a general act so I included second and third class cities. This bill does not say that we must engage in the business, but if any other city has any land lying around loose that they would like to use, this act would give them that privilege. If they do not care to avail themselves of the privilege, it is all right. Therefore, gentlemen, I hope that you will vote favorably to reconsider this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate:

In the Senate, May 16, 1917.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 696, entitled An Act to amend the second section of an act approved April fourth one thousand nine hundred and seven entitled "An Act creating in counties having a population from three hundred thousand to one million a board to fix and determine the number and compensation of employes in all county offices boards bureaus departments and divisions thereof prescribing the powers and duties of said board and regulating appeals from the decision thereof" by providing that where said board as constituted by said act is composed of the county controller and county commisioners only the president of the board in case of a tie vote shall be entitled to a deciding vote, be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time from page 38 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed, House Bill No. 995, File Folio 1507.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 995, entitled

An Act to prohibit the killing of foxes by certain methods in York County and fixing a penalty for violation of the act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, this bill was introduced and sponsored by the Hon. Robert S. Spangler, the gentleman from York. Mr. Spangler has heard and heeded the call of duty, and is to-day a member of Company 12, at Fort Niagara, New York. I received a request from Mr. Spangler to call up this bill, and he also says that he is interested in its passage and that I should request the House to pass this bill. As an evidence that a great many of the citizens in his county are interested in the passage of this bill, he authorizes me to present to the House these numerous petitions, signed by numerous citizens, many of whom are farmers. The bill has been properly advertised and I feel that it is but an act of courtesy that we owe to the Hon. Robert S. Spangler, out of respect to the patriotism which he has shown in having enlisted in the service of his country, that we grant his request, and I hope that the House will act favorably in this matter.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state that the sponsor of the bill is in New York State.

Mr. COOK. Then Mr. Speaker I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lancaster permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HESS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask what is the purpose of this bill.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is very brief, and the purpose is set forth both in its title and in the act. The purpose of the bill is that "it shall be unlawful for any person to shoot or trap or snare or poison any fox within the limits of York County." It further says that "nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any person or persons from shooting a fox or foxes destroying their property." In view of this, I think it is a very fair bill. I might advise the House that Delaware County to-day has an act on the statute books just exactly like the bill introduced by the gentleman from York.

Mr. COOK. About six or eight days ago the sponsor of this bill interviewed me and when he left me he said he had no interest at all in the bill. We are aware that there are but a few people in York County that desire the passage of this bill. I could mention practically all their names. They are men who keep and breed dogs and they want the foxes to become plentiful so that they can thereby practice with these dogs and have a ready sale for them.

The foxes that have been killed in York County during the act that is now on the statute books are about one hundred forty-six, making about three hundred dollars paid by the State for bounties. If this bill is passed, gentlemen, it will be a menace to more than one feature in York County. Every paper that comes out of the press to-day is clamoring for the farmer and the poultry man to raise more produce and more poultry for the general public. If this bill is passed the poultry interests of York County will be menaced materially. While it might benefit two or three men or clubs in York County it will be a menace to no less than a thousand poultry yards in the County of York. There are many farms and little homes along the different hills of York County over which the fox passes and is living practically upon those poultry yards and the other game, such as small rabbits and quail. I, for one, am a member from the County of York and in the interests of my constituents I ask you to down this bill. I am sure that Mr. Spangler does not want it passed. If he would have been here he would not in good faith have made the statement that he told my friend from Lancaster to make, because he has told more than one man that he has no interest in it, he does not want to see it pass. I ask you to defeat it.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, I am reading from a letter I received from Mr. Spangler, under date of May 14th, in which he says: "Will you be so kind as to call up my Fox Bill and make an argument in favor of its passage." Now I will leave it to the gentlemen of the House whether or not he wants the bill passed when he makes that request.

The purpose of that bill is to prevent the extermination of the fox. The fur of the fox to-day is very valuable and men have poisoned and trapped and extermniated them for the purpose of marketing the furs, and that is the purpose of the bill, to prevent that extermination. If the fox is caught in the act of destroying poultry or anything else on the farm, as suggested by the gentleman from York, Mr. Cook, the bill gives you the specific right to shoot it; but it aims at the extermination of the fox and here are petitions signed largely by farmers. The first signer is a farmer, the next is a laborer, the next three are farmers, the next a painter and the next two farmers, the next a miller, the next a laborer, the next six are farmers, and so on.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, there is one feature that has not been brought out in the discussion of this bill. I want to say this without fear of contradiction: That the people who hunt and pay to the State of Pennsylvania a dollar for a license are absolutely in favor of the extermination of the fox because the fox stands in a class by itself as an exterminator of game and especially of rabbits and quail.

I want to make this further statement: That only last year the Game Commission of our great State endeavored to propogate into the State of Pennsylvania six thousand quail from Mexico, with the result that when they got about as far as Pittsburgh they commenced to die off and by the time that they arrived in the central part of the State there were less than five to six hundred quail left. I have been informed by the Secretary of the Commission that there is only one county in the State of Pennsylvania to-day that he can say has been successful in raising quail and that is York County; therefore, gentlemen, I think this bill should certainly be defeated so that you could protect the quail and rabbit, that which gives the sport to the very large majority and not to the select few. I trust, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, that this bill will be voted down.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that it requires no argument to pass a bill to prevent the poisoning of anything. It is absolutely wrong that we should have a law on the statute books permitting an animal, no matter what kind or character he may be, to be poisoned and leave the quail or turkey or dog or whatever animals participates in a part of that carcass to also die. I know of no other county that has such a law. No such law should be permitted on the statute books. We should wipe this off if for no other reason than that.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would be the last one to suggest to the members of this House to do anything that is unpatriotic. I would hate to say anything against the sponsor of this bill and would not do so if he were here, but I think the fact that he has been called away and has offered his services to our country is no reason why we should pass the bill if it is not a meritorious measure and if it is not for the good of the entire people of Pennsylvania. Anything I could do for the gentleman's happiness, who has sacrificed himself at the altar of his country, I would be only too glad to do; but here comes a measure in which I think we are all vitally interested, for the reason as I have already said, that we have appropriated three hundred thousand dollars of hunters' license money each year for what? For the protection, for the propagation of game in the State of Pennsylvania. Now then, if we were to open the bars and let the vermin destroy that game which we are to-day attempting to protect and propagate in the State of Pennsylvania,—which we would do by such a bill as this,—you are going to say on the one hand that you will spend three hundred thousand dollars a year to protect and propagate the game and by your vote on a bill such as this that you are going to allow the foxes to destroy the very animals that you are paying this enormous sum to protect and propagate. Is that right, when you have such a department in the State of Pennsylvania as the Game Commission, to place a barrier in its way that it cannot overcome.

In 1916 there was sent into York County thirty ringnecks, one hundred and ninety-two quail, twenty-two rabbits and one hundred and fifty pheasant eggs for which you paid. If you allow the foxes to go in and destroy these eggs and birds and animals you have thrown that money away and worse, because it is a hardship on the other animals there as well. Last year there was also put into York County two hundred rabbits, forty quail, fifteen ring-necks and two hundred ring-neck eggs. Out of that county there were thirty-nine thousand rabbits killed in 1915, thirty-five hundred squirrels, six hundred quail and one hundred raccoons. This is an estimate given by the Game Department. This shows you that the County of York, along with all other counties of the State, is trying to preserve and conserve the game of that county. Two years ago we had a bill here from Montgomery County similar to this one and that bill was defeated or withdrawn, I do not recall which. If you allow this thing to go on the time will come when this organization, known as the Fox Hunters' League, will ride over the people's fields with their horses and destroy their crops for the purpose of shooting at the foxes.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Committee on Game, I want to call your attention to the fact that sixty-six counties of the State of Pennsylvania are paying a premium to have the fox destroyed. I want also to call your attention to the fact that the Game Committee had a great deal of trouble to adjust the open season so as to suit the southern tier of counties on the open season for rabbits. They were very anxious to have a later season for rabbits, and we believe that the fox is the worst enemy that the rabbit has. I should like to understand why we should pay a premium out of your hunters' license fund to exterminate the fox in sixty-six counties and then protect the fox just across the line in one county. I suspect there are some people in that section, a few of them, who still participate in the old English fox hunt, and I suspect that is the reason why the fox is to be protected in that county. Besides that, I should like to ask whether the advertisement is on the Speaker's desk? This is a piece of special legislation for a particular county and should have been advertised and I should like to know whether the advertisement is here; a copy of it? Has it been filed with the Resident Clerk?

MR. RAMSEY IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, if there is no objection, I will answer that question. A committee could not report a special act to the desk unless proof of advertisement has been offered. It must be on the desk.

Mr. RUDISILL. Mr. Speaker, it appears to me that it is a very foolish thing for this House to pass this bill. I represent Adams, the adjoining county to York. There is a range of hills along the county line. I think it would be very foolish to raise foxes on one side of the hill and pay a bounty for the destruction of foxes on the other side of the hill. That is just what this bill would do.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, is there any notice of publication attached to the bill?

The SPEAKER. No.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the Committee on Judiciary General, Mr. Spangler presented to us notice of publication in this case. Of that I am quite positive.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I might say further that Mr. Spangler says in his letter the advertising has been properly done according to law.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Spangler also told me that the publication required has been complied with. I am only going to speak on this bill because the sponsor was our colleague in this House who was the first to go to the front. I know that he was very much interested in this bill. The discussion of it on the floor as it has proceeded backward and forward has taken on a State character, which I think is a mistake. I live in a county in which a law similar to this exists. The reason for that law in Delaware County was because there was some sportsmen down there who liked to carry the gun and follow after the dogs who were big enough and broad enough to concede in that community that there were a large number of other men who enjoyed another kind of sport—the old English sport; the fox hunt. They recognized that the fox might occasionally pick up a rabbit; that they might occasionally pick up a quail; he might occasionally pick up a chicken—I suppose with that thought I should have said, robbed the hen roost, and if I had only known to whom I was talking I might have been more circumspect in my selection of the language. Any man who has lived in rural life knows that the farmer has few better friends than the fox I remember when my father would allow no man to shoot a fox on his farm. He said that the fox was the farmers' best friend and many a day I have stood and seen him out catching the ground mouse, and my father maintained that the fox did more for the welfare of the agricultural interests of the State than any injury he ever did. This law is not going to affect any other county except the County of York. I think I can read between the lines. Down there in the County of York there are a number of men who enjoy a sport that is so common in the County of Delaware and really a sport that they can enjoy for about four months in the year. You have had a colleague in this House who has gone to the front, who wants to call your attention to the fact that down there in York County there are a number of men who enjoy the sport of fox hunting. He has presented to you for your consideration a petition from hundreds of farmers joining in that request. Is there any objection from any sportsman or any organization known as a sportsman's organization? I think not. Evidently the sportsmen of York County and the sportsmen of Delaware County stand alike; the fellow who likes to follow the dog with his gun wants the other man to also have some chance. Mr friends who came here spoke of poison. I want to say that the Game Commissioner of this State has authorized poison to be set around over in the farms in my county and some very valuable house dogs have been poisoned. I came up here with a very bitter protest against it. The Game Commissioner of this State insists that he has a right as a State Commissioner to place poisons all over the agricultural lands of this State and that is a matter that the Legislature should take in hand and correct. However, I dont' think they could have a right in the cultivated communities of our State to place poison indiscriminately on the farm lands of our State. I don't want to take your time but I want to add, don't get it in mind that we are trying to protect the fox at the sacrifice of the other game in our State as a State proposition. You have a former colleague at Fort Niagara who asks you to pass this bill for him. He has down there in his county sportsmen who follow sport with the gun, and those who follow with hounds and there is no objection on the part of the sportsmen who are willing to carry the gun to pass this bill. I wish this House would pass it for him. I hope my friend from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, will be able to send a telegram to Fort Niagara that the Pennsylvania Legislature has not forgotten Bob Spangler.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Baldwin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, with great pleasure.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he thinks it would be a good thing to remove the bounty from foxes in the entire State?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I have never been a member of the Game Commission, or the Game Committee, of the State. It is a subject that I have not careful consideration to, but my judgment on the blush of the moment is it would be a mistake.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, would it not be a mistake also to take it off in any county of the State?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, so far as my own county is concerned, and so far as this bill effects York County, I have tried to be as plain as possible as to what my views were. I am willing to answer any particular question the gentleman desires to ask; but I did not want to detain the House with a great, long, verbose expression about this proposition that would really have no effect upon this House.

Mr. PHILLIPS. One more question, Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what good the fox is to agriculture, the gentleman said they were of some good but he did not say how.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, my ancestors have been agriculturists in the State of Pennsylvania since 1684. My farther was a farmer from boyhood until his demise, and I told you what his opinion of the fox was. I have with my own eyes seen the fox many times out on the old South Hills hunting ground mice, and that was his opinion about them.

Mr. MILIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BALDWIN. Oh sure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware whether he does not think it would be more patriotic to do like Robert Spangler did and go to Fort Niagara?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, Oh yes, and the gentleman from Armstrong and the gentleman from Delaware too.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, it appears to me that the remarks made by the previous speaker in defense of the passage of this bill were for the sake of Mr. Spangler, and not for the sake of the fox, or for the farmer, or for the promulgation of poultry. I want to say further that the fox is detrimental to the poultry yards of York County. Just a few days ago, Professor Baker of near Dillsburg stated to me that there was a fox in his hennery and killed not less than $25.00 worth of poultry. He did not see the fox in the act, but he saw him going. This law provides that you dare not kill or trap that fox or shoot him unless you see him in the act. Where are you going to get a jury to convict that fox. I love the dog and gun just as well as other sportsmen of hunting do. I love plenty of rabbits and quail, and you know as well as I know that the fox is one of the greatest terriors and exterminators of the rabbit and quail. What does he live on? He is flesh eating animal, he does not eat herbs by any means. I ask you in the name of the sportsmen of York County and I ask you in the name of the poultry men and I ask you in the name of the farmers to kill this bill.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I have listened with considerable interest to the discussion of this bill. I have no interest in it whatever, but I think it comes with very poor grace for a man to come in and appeal to the people on the ground of sportsmanship to oppose this bill. All the opposition that I have heard so far, and I think the majority of the members of the House have been impressed with the same thing, is that this is simply a question as to whether or not the sport of hunting is to be confined to the hunting of small game or whether the people who take pleasure in hunting foxes are also to have an opportunity. I repeat that I think it comes with very poor grace for the hunters of small game to oppose this bill, and I will vote for it.

SPEAKER BALDWIN IN THE CHAIR.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. COOK. I ask for a verification of the roll.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

Senate Bill No. 216.

An Act relating to the salaries and expenses of the examiners in the Department of Banking

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

A CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Whereas, The Senate of the United States at its last regular session failed to pass the Rivers and Harbors Bill which contained appropriations for the continuance of the work on the thirty-five foot channel in the Delaware River, for beginning work on a new project for a wider and deeper channel in the Schuylkill, provision for the acquirement by the Government of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, and many other important items; and

Whereas, Unless further appropriations are made for the continuance of the work and the maintenance of the channel already completed, the unfinished work on the channel of the Delaware River must be abandoned on the thirtieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen; and thereby the project on which large sums of money have already been expended will become of little or no value; and

Whereas, The importance of the Navy of the United States, and particularly to the Philadelphia Navy Yard, of the continuance of this work to final completion and its continued maintenance cannot be overestimated, particularly during the present period of the war with Germany, therefore

Be it Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby urges upon the Congress of the United States the importance of the passage at its present extraordinary session, of a Rivers and Harbors bill, carrying an adequate appropriation for the carrying on and maintenance of the project of the Delaware River Channel; and

Be it further Resolved that copies of this resolution be presented to the Senators and Congressman representing this Commonwealth in the Congress of the United States; and that said Senators and Congressmen are hereby urged to exert their greatest efforts for the furtherance and final passage of such a measure.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. MILNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up House Bill No. 1391, file folio 5321, on page 15 of to-day's calendar, bills on final passage postponed, for the purpose of amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1391, entitled

An Act to amend section five of an act approved the tenth day of April one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine entitled "An Act relating to mutual saving fund building and loan associations regulating the mode of charging premiums bonus or interest in advance of withdrawals of repayment and collection of loans also restricting the power to levy excessive fines and defining the rights and liabilities of married women stockholders and prescribing the non-application to these associations of the bonus tax and registry laws for corporations"

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MILNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 27 by striking out the word "three" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "six."

Amend section 1, page 2, line 27, by inserting after the word "months" the following

"where the loan or loans to the stockholder is secured by a first lien and for the space of three months where the loan or loans to the stockholder is otherwise secured"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 16, 1917.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives providing for the recall of House Bill No. 846.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 846, entitled

An Act providing for the creation and regulation of municipal liens and the proceedings for the collection thereof in the several boroughs of this Commonwealth passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend by striking out the title and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"An Act to validate certain municipal claims in the several boroughs of the Commonwealth; providing for the filing of liens therefor and the proceedings for the collection of such claims"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative. the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1166, as follows:

An Act to provide a method upon petition of owner with notice to wife of bankrupt for ascertaining determining and charging statutory interest inchoate on lands of bankrupt sold under order of United States Court by report of viewers and decree of court of common pleas in certain cases freeing and discharging part of such lands from such statutory interest inchoate and charging same upon a portion of lands formerly owned by bankrupt in case of death of wife during life of bankrupt or after his death to discharge the lands from such statutory interest inchoate or statutory interest fixed by decree of court providing for service of rules and notices and for appeal from final decree of such court

Whereas real estate of bankrupts sold under order of the United States courts is not discharged of statutory interest inchoate but is taken by the purchaser subject to such statutory interest and

Whereas it is desirable that a method of ascertaining and determining such statutory interest inchoate should be established before the death of the bankrupt therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in any instance where lands of a bankrupt have been or shall hereafter be sold under order of the United States courts and the bankrupt shall be living and shall have a wife living who was his lawful wife during any portion of the time between the date of being declared a bankrupt and completion of sale of his real estate it shall be lawful for the purchaser or purchasers or any of them his their or its heirs successors or assigns to present a petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which such real estate may be situate setting forth the facts together with a description of the real estate owned by the petitioner or petitioners and praying the said court to grant a rule upon the wife of the bankrupt to appear upon a day certain to be designated by said court to show cause if any she has why viewers should not be appointed to ascertain and determine the statutory interest inchoate which she might be entitled to upon the death of her husband the bankrupt should she survive him and also why such dower inchoate should not be entirely charged upon a certain part or portion of the real estate formerly owned by such bankrupt provided the same could be divided and a part thereof should be found by the viewers to be sufficient to secure such statutory interest inchoate

Section 2 Whereupon it shall be the duty of said court of common pleas to direct a rule to issue to be served upon the wife of the bankrupt at least ten days before the return day Such service shall be personal if the wife of the bankrupt resides in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should she not reside in the county where the rule issues the sheriff of that county shall transmit the rule to the sheriff of the county wherein she resides and that official shall have authority to make such service and return thereof through the sheriff of the county wherein the rule issues to the court should she not reside in the Commonwealth or should it appear by affidavit of petitioner that her residence is not known and could not be ascertained by diligent inquiry then such service shall be by publication for three successive weeks in one or more newspapers of the county wherein the rule issues the last publication to be ten days before the return day

Section 3 On any day after the return day if it shall appear to the court of common pleas that service of the rule has been made personally or by publication then it shall be the duty of the court to appoint five viewers who shall fix a day for hearing and give notice thereof to the wife of the bankrupt in the manner herein provided for service of the rule

Section 4 Upon the day of hearing testimony shall be heard upon part of petitioner and upon part of respondent should she appear and produce witnesses or other evidence which testimony shall be reduced to writing and filed by the viewers with their report to the court

Section 5 The viewers shall find the facts and make report to the court and such report shall contain the following

(1) The name and residence of the bankrupt the court by which he was declared a bankrupt and the date thereof

(2) The name and residence of the wife of the bankrupt or if her residence shall not be known this fact shall appear

(3) A description of all the real estate held by petitioners and formerly owned by the bankrupt and subject to statutory interest inchoate at the date when he was declared a bankrupt and date when such real estate was sold by order of the United States court and the name of the purchaser or purchasers

(4) The name of the owner or owners of such real estate together with the market value thereof exclusive of the statutory interest inchoate at the time of the hearing and report of viewers

(5) Whether the real estate owned by the petitioner or petitioners could be divided so that the satutory interest inchoate could be secured and charged on a particular portion thereof and if so then a description and draft of each part thereof with the market value of each purpart

(6) A recommendation by the viewers or a majority thereof as to the real estate or the portion thereof upon which such statutory interest inchoate should be charged and in case of division which portion of such real estate should be freed and discharged of such statutory interest inchoate

(7) A finding by the viewers or a majority thereof of the amount of statutory interest inchoate and description of the land upon which the same shall be charged

(8) The report to be signed by not less than a majority of the viewers

Section 6 Upon the filing of the report of viewers the same shall be confirmed nisi and if exceptions to the findings of fact and report of viewers be not filed within ten days the same shall be confirmed absolutely

Section 7 Should exceptions be filed the same shall be heard by the court of common pleas and the findings and report of the viewers shall be affirmed or modified as may be determined by the court and a decree made accordingly fixing and determining the statutory interest inchoate which the respondent may be entitled to upon the death of her husband should she survive him and the land or lands or portion or portions thereof upon which such statutory interest inchoate shall be charged and in case of division freeing and discharging from such statutory interest inchoate other lands owned by and belonging to petitioners

Section 8 Upon the death of the bankrupt and the survival of his wife she shall be entitled to statutory interest upon the valuation fixed and determined by the report of viewers as approved or modified by the court and charged upon such lands by the decree of said court

Section 9 Upon the death of the wife of the bankrupt during the life of the bankrupt or after his death upon proof of such fact duly made to the court of common pleas the court shall decree that the statutory interest inchoate or statutory interest charged upon such land shall be discharged and the same shall be held by the owner free of such statutory interest inchoate

Section 10 Either party shall have the right of appeal from any final decree of the court of common pleas and the same shall be heard and determined by the appellate court and a decree entered accordingly

Section 11 Only lands formerly of the bankrupt and owned by petitioner or petitioners shall be affected by this act

Section 12 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question.
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1166 passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. E. R. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1 page 2 line 29 by striking out the word "dower" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "statutory interest."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 407, entitled

An Act relating to the issue of marriage licenses and the applications therefor.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McKAY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. KENNEDY. Mr. Speaker I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 867, entitled

An Act to prohibit the use of cannon guns revolvers or other explosive devices at wedding ceremonies or celebrations and providing a penalty.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ADAM C. SCHAEFFER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. CORBIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER anonunced the nays appeared to have it.

Whereupon,

A division was called and forty-one gentlemen having voted in the affirmative and eighty in the negative, the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I would like the author of this bill to explain what he means by the term "other explosive device," in this bill.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, this bill is in the interest of public safety, and I do not think that many of the members know what it contains, and they are probably thinking of the other bill which I intend to amend. In Clearfield County and many other counties at celebrations and weddings they are using dynamite and shotguns, and not over two months ago they killed a young man in Clearfield County. The district attorney asked me to introduce this bill, and that is why it is here. I hope the bill will pass.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1.

Black,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate, being introduced, presented bill from the House of Representatives, numbered and entitled as follows:

House Bill No. 1063

An Act to amend section five of an act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to fix the salaries of the judges of the Supreme Court the judges of the Superior Court the judges of the courts of common pleas and the judges of the orphans' courts"

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend title line 5 by striking out the word "the" before "Common"
Page 2, line 22, after the figures "$8,500" strike out the words
"in judicial districts having a population of ninety thousand (90,000) and less than two hundred thousand (200,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the court of common pleas learned in the law shall be seven thousand dollars ($7,000)"
And insert in lieu thereof the words "in judicial districts having a population of one hundred forty thousand (140,000) and less than two hundred thousand (200,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the court of common pleas learned in the law shall be eight thousand dollars ($8,000) In judicial districts having a population of ninety thousand (90,000) and less than one hundred forty thousand (140,000) the annual salary of each of the judges of the court of common pleas learned in the law shall be seven thousand dollars ($7,000) in judicial districts having a population"
Page 3, line 12 strike out the word "two" and insert the word "four" and in line 13 strike out the figures "$2,000" and insert the figures "($4,000)"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. GRAEFF. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, they have taken this bill over to the Senate and mutilated it until I can hardly recognize by own child. The bill originally affected two counties, Schuylkill and Westmoreland, raised the salaries of the judges in those counties from $7,500 to $8,500. As the bill comes back from the Senate amended there are seven additional counties tacked to it. They now have the bill in the peculiar situation where the tail is wagging the dog and I would like the gentlemen of the House to vote down the amendments in order that the bill in its original form can go back to the Senate and meet with the approval of the Governor. If the gentlemen who are interested in the amendments wish to have the salaries of their judges raised they now have before the House a bill for that purpose and I would like to see that bill go through on its own merits and I would like to see the bill I introduced get the same treatment.

I therefore move that we do not concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 868, entitled

An Act to prohibit the display of certain fire-arms and other deadly weapons and providing a penalty

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title by striking out "firearms and other."
On line 5 strike out the word "revolvers."
On line 9 after the word "rifles" strike out the word "and."
After the word "shotguns" add "and revolvers."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 717 as follows:

An Act to amend section two of an act approved the nineteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred eighty-seven entitled "An Act to preserve the purity of elections by declaring drunkenness on the part of election officers and assessors of poll taxes to be a misdemeanor and by requiring elections to be held in rooms in which liquor is not sold so far as possible" by absolutely prohibiting the holding of elections in rooms in which liquor is sold
Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two of the act approved the nineteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred eighty-seven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred twenty-six) entitled "An Act to preserve the purity of elections by declaring drunkenness on the part of election officers and assessors of poll taxes to be a misdemeanor and by requiring elections to be held in rooms in which liquor is not sold so far as possible" which reads as follows
"Section 2 Hereafter no public elections shall be held in any room any part of which is used for the sale of liquors if it be possible to obtain another room for that purpose in the vicinity and it shall be the duty of the court of quarter sessions or any law judge thereof to inquire upon the petition of five or more citizens resident in the election district whether any such rooms are now designated as polling places and in such cases to select other places for holding the elections" is hereby amended to read as follows
Section 2 Hereafter no public elections shall be held in any room any part of which is used for the sale of liquors and it shall be the duty of the court of quarter sessions or any law judge thereof to inquire upon the petition of five or more citizens resident in the election district whether any such rooms are now designated as polling places and in such cases to select other places for holding the elections

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. ISHERWOOD. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1044 (Senate No. 344), entitled

An Act to amend section fourteen of an act approved the seventh day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirteen, entitled "An Act relating to and regulating motor vehicles, and vehicles trailing after or propelled by motor vehicles; controlling their speed upon the public streets and highways in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; providing for their registration, and licensing of certain operators, by the State Highway Department; prohibiting the operation of any motor vehicle by any person when intoxicated, or without the consent of the owner; forbidding the passage of any law laying a tax upon or requiring the registration of motor vehicles, or licensing of any operator, or regulating the speed of motor vehicles, by any county, borough, city, incorporated town, or township; establishing the rights of motor vehicles upon the public highways, with relation to other vehicles; providing for their equipment and for the width of tires to be used upon motor vehicles, and vehicles trailing after or propelled by motor vehicles; regulating the service of process and proceedings in actions for damages arising therefrom; providing for arrest, and for service of process, and proceedings for violation of this act; prescribing the penalties therefor; and providing for the disposition of fees collected and fines imposed thereunder."

On the quetsion,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I wish somebody familiar with this bill will tell me why the signs in boroughs and towns shall bear the names of the towns and boroughs.

The SPEAKER. Is there any member of the House that can explain the provisions of Senate Bill No. 344?

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, the only change that I see in this bill from the old act is that it regulates the speed before public school houses. It goes further and provides that in boroughs and built-up sections where the danger signs have been erected that the danger signs must also bear the name of the borough or town. I have no objections to the regulation of speed before school houses. I think it is a good provision, but nearly all the boroughs in the State have already put up these danger signs "Run Slow" and if this bill becomes a law it will necessitate the taking down of all those signs and adding to them the name of the borough or town. I can see no good use in that and for that reason I am not in favor of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1299 (Senate Bill No. 383), entitled

An Act making an appropriation to George W. Rice and Mary Fuller Rice, of Penn township Cumberland county for loss sustained by the death of their minor son Benjamin Rice while lawfully driving along a State highway in Penn township Cumberland county

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I should like any gentleman in the House to explain why suit is not brought instead of passing an act making an appropriation.

Mr. BLACK. Mr. Speaker, I understand an agreement has been made between the Highway Department and the lawyers representing the persons interested in this matter and this bill is absolutely satisfactory and that they are all agreeable to the act instead of going into court.

On the question recurring,

Mr. ROSS, asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following motion which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Moved by Mr. Ross, seconded by Mr. Dawson, that Senate Bill No. 243 (House Bill No. 1369), File Folio 1355, entitled

An Act to repeal an act approved the twenty-fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An act to regulate nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said office abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses" in so far as it relates to nominations and elections for election offices in cities of the second class be made a special order on Monday, May 21, at 10.00 P. M.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I move that when the House adjourns to-night it be to meet to-morrow morning at 9.30 A. M.

Mr. RICKENBACKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

SPEAKER BALDWIN IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The motion is not in order at this time, unless the gentleman desires to amend it to adjourn now.

Mr. PHILLIPS. I will amend the motion to that effect, and move that the House do now adjourn to meet tomorrow morning at 9.30 A. M.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the nays appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for and less than a majority of all the members voting, the Chair ordered a roll call which was then taken, and was as follows:

Albee,	Dunn,	McKinney,	Showalter,
Baker,	Eby,	McNichol,	Shunk,
Baldridge,	Ehrhardt,	McVicar,	Siggins,

The SPEAKER. The roll indicates that there are one hundred and eleven gentlemen present. This being a quorum of the House, the question recurs on the motion made by the gentleman from Clearfield.

On the question, recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair before declaring an adjournment desires to call the attention of the House to the fact that this prevents consideration of the bills on first reading which should have been done before the House adjourned. It will detain those bills one week probably.

ADJOURNMENT.

Whereupon, the House (at 6.00 o'clock P. M.) adjourned until tomorrow morning at 9.30 o'clock.
